Fire prevention education saves child

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The Antioch Fire Department is pretty pleased with their fire prevention education program this week. Over the weekend, a 6-year-old Antioch child was saved as a direct result of the efforts of the department to educate the community.

"A 6-year-old was upstairs in his home taking a shower," said Captain Rich Frankson. "When he saw smoke, he went to the windows and called to a neighbor."

According to Frankson, a pan with

"We were advised we had a person 'He did exactly what we taught him . . . Public education sure paid off in this situation.'" trapped on the second floor," said Frankson. "When we arrived, the boy was already out of the house. A neighbor got him down with a ladder."

— Captain Rich Frankson

While Frankson was not pleased about the fire, he was very happy about the child's reaction to it. "He did exactly what we taught him," said Captain Rich Frankson. "He did not panic or hide. Public education sure paid off in this situation."

The Antioch Fire Department is dedicated to public education. Members of the department visit all area schools in an effort to heighten fire safety awareness and to reduce the number of fires in the Antioch area.

Antioch's first lady of horsemanship dies

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Ruby Holmquist, Antioch's first lady of horsemanship died last week at Victory Hospital in Waukegan at the age 81. Holmquist, co-founder of the Illinois Trailriders Association, former president of the Lake County Mounted Posse, and member of the Newport Environmental Action Team, was a dedicated equestrian-rights advocate.

"She was a very active lady," said her son Tom Holmquist.

Just this past summer, Ruby, at the age of 81, participated in her usual camping and riding trips to Wisconsin and the Shawnee National Forest. At the age of 70, Holmquist took up horse jumping and at age 77 was still able to break a horse.

Holmquist was raised on a ranch in Montana and moved to Illinois when she was a teenager. After college, she married, raised two children and worked for 37 years at Glenview Naval Air Station.

In 1959, she formed the Lake County Mounted Posse and became its first female president in 1990. She helped create and maintain horse trails in the Shawnee National Forest, organized the first River-to-River Ride in southern Illinois, and in 1989 helped to form the Illinois Trailriders Association.

In 1990 Holmquist helped put together the 200 page "Illinois Trailriders Handbook." The book is a wonderful source of information for horse riders and includes detailed maps, trails, and campgrounds.

Holmquist's work will continue. "In the last few months she kind of turned the reins over to others," said Tom Holmquist. "I'm sure a lot of her work will continue."

Her two sons, Thomas and Donald, survive Holmquist who was widowed in 1961. Six grandchildren, a great-grandchild, a brother and three sisters survive her.

Services were held following visitation at the Marsh Funeral Home Ltd. in Gurnee.

Antioch VFW celebrates its golden anniversary

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

It was Oct. 8, 1945 when 53 veterans joined forces to charter the Antioch VFW Post 4551. From that first meeting, the Antioch VFW has grown to 175 members, with their own post.

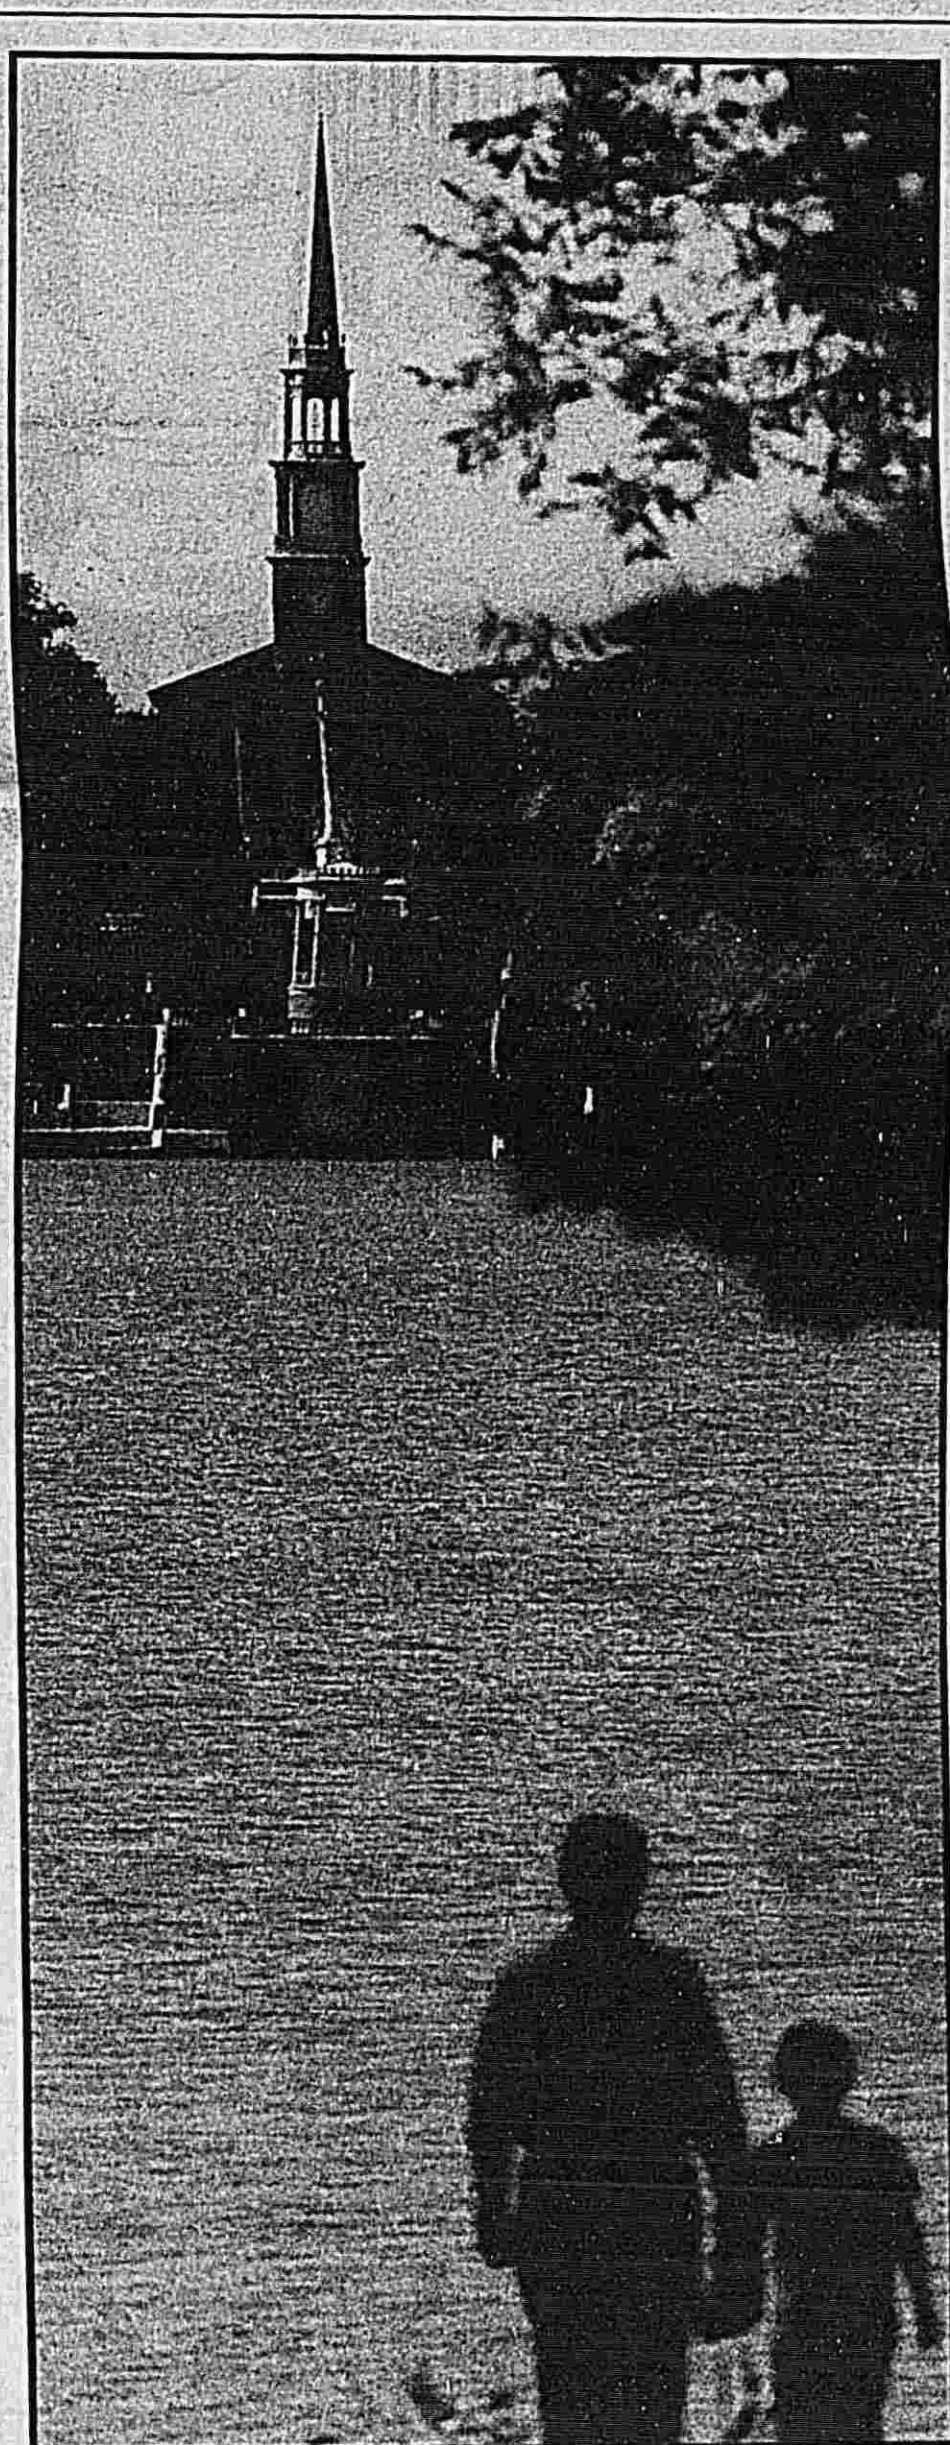

"We used to hold meetings in one of the member's basements," said past Post Commander Al Himber. "The guys got together to buy the current building. They saved and sold newspapers and struggled for many years."

The building they bought was an old auction barn owned by Behm Auctioneers. It was purchased in 1980, and is used not only by the Antioch VFW, but also the Lake County Health Department for their immunization programs every third Wednesday of the month.

The familiar sign was not put in place until 1985 and was donated by a member.

Paul A. Spera, Commander-in-Chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, has announced the award of a Golden Anniversary Citation to the Antioch Post in honor of its 50th anniversary. Spera congratulated all members of Post 4551 for the outstanding record they have achieved of service to the community, the veterans, and the nation.

Locally, the VFW will host a big celebration on Nov. 4 at the Post on North Avenue. "We are going to have a band, food and beverages," said Himber. "It will be by invitation only."

'Victorian Ladies' win coveted Best of Club award

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The Victorian Ladies, a group of Illinois and Southern Wisconsin members of the China Painters Guild won the coveted Best of the Club plaque during the last Wisconsin World Organization of China Painters state show and convention. The centerpiece of their display was a miniature porcelain shop created by Joy Darus of Antioch.

The miniature porcelain shop is an intricate, finely painted scale model including beautifully crafted miniature porcelain items. Tiny porcelain cups and saucers, vases, a little Santa Claus, and even tiny price tags are just a few of the items "for sale" in the miniature shop.

Other "Victorian Ladies" participating at the convention included Barbara Duckworth of Barrington; Elizabeth Necklaws of Grayslake; Ruth Schroeder of Mauston, Wisconsin; Mabel Engberg of Woodworth, Wisconsin; Dottie Kozak of Bristol, Wisconsin; and Diane Schroeder of Trevor, Wisconsin.

"Everyone was thrilled, including Elizabeth," said Darus, "when she won not just one but two of the hand painted door prizes."

Darus has been involved with the ceramics world for 37 years. "I had a teaching studio in Winthrop Harbor for 20 years," she said. "For the past 20 years, I have been making porcelain collectibles for catalogs. I specialize in thimbles, eggs and bells."

Her home is a testimony to her life-long work. Beautiful porcelain items are everywhere, and a huge studio can be found in her basement.

"At one time, I had 11 employees," said Darus. "Although, the catalog I worked for went out of business. They never recovered from the Gulf War."

Now, the Guild meets at the Darus home the third Tuesday of every month from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. "We also have teachers come in," said Darus. "We hold two day seminars."

Anyone interested in joining the Guild can call 395-7020 or 862-6368.

Child-care alternative for Antioch

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

It's raining outside, the VCR is on the blink, the errand list would daunt the most dedicated Boy Scout, and two rambunctious toddlers are busy unwinding 200 spools of thread in the living room. So, what can you do?

If you live in the Antioch/Lake Villa area, help could be just a phone call away. The Parent's Day Out program (PDO), operated out of the Antioch United Methodist Church could, quite possibly, save the day.

PDO combines the structure of a nursery school with the flexibility of a babysitter. Three days a week, the program is in full swing from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

"One of the best things about the program is the flexibility," said Acting Director Sheri Ferbert. "If your child is sick, you can call in and not pay for that day."

The beauty of the program is that children can attend the day they first register. Or, parents can reserve dates by purchasing tickets and asked to be placed on a certain day.

"We sell coupons," said Ferbert. "This is new. The tickets are a great idea for Christmas gifts or even a shower gift for families with a new addition on the way."

The cost of the program is $10 per child, per session. Tickets can be purchased for that day or in advance. The program operates on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays. PDO follows District 34's school calendar and the program is closed on school district holidays.

Socialization skills are stressed at the program. While older children learn numbers, colors, shapes, crafts and safety issues, no fixed curriculum is set. Because of the open door policy a fixed curriculum cannot be followed.

"The nature of the program is intermittent," explains Ferbert. "We tried cumulative learning but it does not necessarily fit the needs of this program. They do learn the basics though. It is more of a respite care program to allow parents a day out."

The program is regulated by the Illinois Department of Child and Family Services to allow up to 10 hours per child a week, or two sessions. Each child needs to bring a bag lunch because PDO is not approved to serve hot lunches. "Children must bring their own lunches," said Ferbert.

Using guidelines provided by Childserv, PDO is an outreach ministry of the United Methodist Church. "There is no religious instruction, but it is a Christian environment," said Ferbert. "We do observe the Christian holidays."

The program is overseen by a five-member volunteer board of directors. A $15 craft fee is required for each participating family. "But, we allow the child or children one visit before the fee must be paid," said Ferbert.

PDO is staffed by teachers and teacher assistants. The teachers have either two or four year degrees in early childhood or elementary education. Assistant teachers have either a degree or have had experience in early childhood education. Children from infancy to 5 years old are welcome.

This novel program has openings, especially on Wednesdays. Currently, over 60 children are registered from all over the Lake County and Southern Wisconsin areas. According to Ferbert, the next closest similar program is over 25 miles away.

For more information about the program call 395-1362.

Seniors rate own driving readiness

Were you ready to drive when you were 16 years old?

This question will be answered by Illinois high school seniors who enter the 30th annual Illinois Editors' Traffic Safety Seminar Essay Contest. Scholarships totaling $7,000 will be awarded to the 10 students whose essays best respond to the topic. First and second prizes will be $2,000 and $1,000 scholarships. Each of the eight remaining winners will receive $500.

Since the contest originated, more than 27,000 students have participated and more than $155,000 in scholarship money has been awarded by the AAA Chicago Motor Club.

Joseph A. Spagnolo, state superintendent of education, has urged educators to support the contest and encourage high school seniors to participate.

Seminar directors make preliminary selections from among several hundred entries. These are sent to a panel of health and safety educators from the University of Illinois, which chooses the 10 finalists. Writing skills and original thinking are important criteria considered by the judges. They also look for fresh, feasible, constructive and well supported ideas, along with spelling, thought organization, punctuation and grammar.

"Younger drivers continue to be involved in an alarming number of accidents relative to their representation among all drivers," said Lionel Kramer, seminar secretary and AAA CMC's president and chief operating officer. "This year's contest participants will need to make an honest assessment of their attitudes and level of driving skills when they received their licenses. The results could provide helpful information for improving crash statistics."

Previous contests have addressed many traffic safety issues including drunk driving, speed limits, legal driving age, driver education and new legislation.

An official entry form must accompany each essay which should contain approximately 500 words and be postmarked no later than Dec. 31.

Contest rules and entry forms are available at most Illinois high schools, AAA CMC branch offices or from Seminar Headquarters: AAA Chicago Motor Club, P.O. Box 5027, Des Plaines, IL 60017-5027.

The scholarship awards will be presented to the winners in early May, 1996 at the annual awards luncheon of the Illinois Editors' Traffic Safety Seminar.

Park Happenings

Learn to 'two step' at Antioch Parks

Line dancing

The Antioch Parks and Recreation Dept. has begun line dance lessons. Classes meet on Wednesdays from 7 to 8:30 p.m. for anyone ages 12 and older. Cost is $35 for village residents. No prior experience or knowledge of country music or dance is needed.

Basketball programs

Boys basketball for 9 to 12 year olds will begin on Nov. 13. This program is seven weeks long on Monday evenings.

"A" team is a basketball program for 13 to 17 year olds. This program will run for eight weeks on Tuesdays beginning Nov. 14. The program will be held from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at W.C. Petty School.

Cost for both programs is $30 per child for village residents.

Centennial playground

The Centennial Playground will be closed on Saturday, Oct. 21 for maintenance. The "Friends of the Parks" will be sealing all the wood surfaces. Volunteers are needed. Bring garden sprayers, wear old clothes and be there by 9 a.m. No children will be allowed.

For information on these or any other Antioch Parks and Recreation Dept. programs, call 395-2160.

Senior Center — home away from home

The Antioch Senior Center traces its roots to 1974 when some retired residents felt the need for get-togethers and fellowship. They thought it would be nice to enjoy friendship, games, fun, etc., together.

In the beginning, they met in various homes. In time, the group grew to a point where it was necessary to meet in schools and churches. Then they were offered the use of the Scout House by Sue Koppa, who, at that time was head of the Parks and Recreation for the Village of Antioch. She was contacted by Russ Nicherson of Catholic Charities who was willing to sponsor a Senior Center. Ila Wesinglad was the first coordinator and Carol Easley the last coordinator at the Scout House. She was also the first coordinator in the new center.

The village bought the Filler home in 1979 and the center was built with matching funds from the Village of Antioch and the Area Agency on Aging which was a State of Illinois agency. Their condition was that it would be used as a Senior Center. The Center is owned, operated and maintained by the Village of Antioch. Catholic Charities has a contractual agreement with the Village to be the Administrator of the Center (that agreement can be terminated in 90 days for any reason).

The Center has grown by leaps and bounds. In 1980, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Spiering donated funds to add 30 more feet to the Center with the stipulation that the AARP would have the right to use the Center two days each month.

Many changes have taken place to make the Center a home away from home. Several trips are planned, parties of all kinds, birthday celebrations, etc. Monday is bingo day, Wednesday line dancing, sing along, crafts and cribbage; Thursday is bridge and three-handed pinochle and Friday it's four-handed pinochle. All of these activities are handled by many volunteers.

There are only three paid employees. The membership is over 200 who can make a voluntary membership contribution of $5 per year. This money is used for various things such as telephone, new cards, etc. Meals on Wheels is another service the Center provides. Through the years, many generous gifts have been made to the Center. The funds have been used to purchase many needed things.

After Carol Easley left, Dorrie Hubbard was the next coordinator. Then came Benny Altman in 1983 until 1985. On April 1985, Paul Howard was named coordinator. Under his guidance the Center has moved forward. Much of the planning of how the Center money is spent is decided by the Senior Council which consists of 15 members. At least once a year, a bazaar, bake sale and raffle are held to help raise funds. A good meal is served Monday through Friday and the price can't be beat. It's a great place to come and meet old and new friends and enjoy oneself.

Character comes to life

Mrs. Frizzle (played by Merrilee Hindman) visits students at Antioch Lower Grade School. Mrs. Frizzle is the main character from a series of children's books known as "The Magic School Bus" written by Joanna Cole. Picnic permit day nears at forest preserve

One lucky picnicker, the first person to make a picnic reservation on Saturday, Oct. 21, will receive his or her permit at no charge. From 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., the Lake County Forest Preserves will issue picnic permits for 1996.

More than 200 permits are expected to be issued the first day. The 20 Forest Preserve picnic shelters range in capacity of up to 700 people. People who want specific locations and dates are encouraged to come in early.

All groups wishing to reserve a picnic shelter are required to buy a permit. After Oct. 21, permits can be obtained at the Forest Preserve General Offices during regular hours: 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., weekdays, and 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturdays.

Opportunities for photography and interviews will be available. For more information, call Amy Purcell, marketing and special events coordinator, at 367-3676, ext. 125.

La Leche to meet

La Leche League of Chain-o-Lakes will hold their meeting on Oct. 18 at 9:30 a.m. For information and location of the meeting call Mary Ann at 265-9054.

The topic of discussion will be "At Home with Your New Baby." Babies and toddlers are always welcome.

Autober Feast a big success

Last month's Autober Feast in Antioch was a big success. The event, which featured both the 1995 and 1996 new cars was well attended.

Besides great deals on cars, 22 people also won gift certificates or trips. The sale featured hourly drawing.

Winners of the $50 gift certificates were Cindy MacNaught, Barbara Pisenko, Dorthy Olson, Kathy Miedema, Donna Bartosz, Paul Schneider, Kenneth Martenez, Julie Robinson, Keith Rutkowski, Meg Ortiz, Don Skidmore, Jean Koren, Pam Dep, Alan Dee, Leona Thornton, Walter Nickols, Todd Fredricksen, Randy Bennett, Mitch Stepanek and Judy Weber.

Tom Evert and Don Hartmann each won trips for two to Mexico.

Parenting seminar set for Oct. 13-14 —NEW ARRIVALS

The Chain of Lakes Community Bible Church will sponsor "Growing Kids God's Way," a seminar presenting biblical guidelines for parenting on Oct. 13 to 14. This seminar will feature nationally-known speakers Gary and Anne Marie Ezzo.

The Ezzos founded Growing Families International (GFI) to help provide families with practical instruction based in biblical ethics. Gary Ezzo, executive director of GFI, graduated from Talbot Theological Seminary and formerly served as a pastor of family ministries in California. Ann Marie Ezzo has a background in pediatric nursing and is a childbirth instructor. She is co-founder of Christian Childbirth Educators and co-author of "Birth By Design."

Together the Ezzos have co-authored several books including "Growing Kids God's Way," and "Preparation for Parenting." They have also co-authored a parenting curriculum used by over 200,000 parents throughout the world, and their church-based parenting classes are conducted in more than 1,000 churches across North America. The Ezzos are regular guests on the national radio broadcast "Midday Connection," heard locally on WMBI, and host their own weekly, two-hour national radio call-in program devoted to biblical parenting. The Ezzos are grandparents and reside in Chatsworth, Calif.

A registration fee of $40 per couple or $25 per individual includes lunch. The Chain of Lakes Community Bible Church is located at 23201 W. Grass Lake Rd. in Antioch, where Pastor Don Sweeting serves as senior pastor. The "Growing Kids God's Way" seminar is presented by the Moody Bible Institute as a part of their nation-wide series of marriage and family seminars and conferences.

COURAGE ready for Red Ribbon Week

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

A community anti-gang organization is holding a special fund raiser in an effort to promote healthy and positive alternatives.

Community Outreach United Residents Against Gang Environment (COURAGE) will hold a Mile of Quarters on Oct. 21. The event will be held at the Linden Plaza from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

"The money will go towards COURAGE. It is a good, positive alternative other than gangs, alcohol or drugs," said Linda Bergin of COURAGE.

The event will help defray the cost for major trips such as a ski trip and summer camping excursions. Both events include leadership training and self-esteem workshops besides the activities.

During the day the group will have a red-ribbon a mile long to commemorate the beginning of Red Ribbon Week. The ribbon was donated by the Round Lake Beach Kmart.

Red Ribbon Week is from Oct. 21 to 28 and honors Enrique Camerina, A Drug Enforcement Agent who was killed by drug dealers in Mexico. The week is recognized nationally and serves as an opportunity to create awareness of the dangers of drug and alcohol abuse.

COURAGE also is holding a special general meeting on Oct. 25 at 7 p.m. at Lindenhurst Village Hall with a panel of experts from COURAGE's four participating villages, Antioch, Grayslake, Lake Villa and Lindenhurst.

"It is a chance to see how each of the communities is doing in the fight against drugs and how individuals can help police solve these problems," Bergin said.

COURAGE is a group which takes a zero tolerance stance to gang activity. It stresses preventing gang membership through education, prevention and intervention. The organization has both a youth and adult group.

COURAGE volunteers will also participate in the Haunted Howl in Antioch from 4 to 11 p.m. and the Haunted Trail from 2 to 10 p.m. in the McDonald Woods.

ACHS candidate offers CEO experience

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Don Mertic feels he can provide more leadership and administrative experience to the Antioch High School board.

Mertic has been the chief executive officer of Central Baptist Children's Home for 12 years and is responsible for 65 employees. He also was a teacher and administrator for a total of 13 years.

"I happen to be experienced with years of bringing a balanced budget to the table," Mertic said.

He also stresses the need to do what is best for children. He taught social science and economics and also was involved in administration in the Chicago School system to improve technology offerings to students.

"I have a professional interest in people and am interested in children as they progress from childhood to adulthood," Mertic said.

He emphasized the need for the high school to provide more technology offerings for students to be prepared for the work force. He said that would have to be done within budget constraints.

Mertic said the current school board has done what it can to address dwindling state aid and limited funds brought on by the state tax cap.

He was a school board candidate for the failed Lake Villa unit district proposal. He was the treasurer of the Committee of Ten who brought the plan to a referendum vote.

Mertic said the voters have spoken on the unit district and now is the time for the school district to find solutions to the overcrowding issue. He said the high school building is already at capacity and solutions need to be found.

"I want to help solve the high school problem for Antioch and Lake Villa Townships," Mertic said. "The growth problem is not going to get better."

Also running for three seats are Fred Fetting III, Joe Kane, Ed Koziorowski and Kathy Werchek. The election is November 7.

Waterway meeting changed to Oct. 24

The Fox Waterway Agency has rescheduled the time and location of their monthly board meeting. The meeting has been rescheduled to Oct. 24 and will be held in the Teaching Theater of the McHenry East High School, 1012 N. Green St. McHenry, at 7:30 p.m.

The Fox Waterway Agency will hold a public hearing at 8 p.m. at the above referenced meeting to consider proposed modifications to the user fee schedule. A copy of the proposed schedule is available by contacting the agency staff at 45 S. Pistakee Lake Rd., Fox Lake, 587-8540.

All interested parties are invited to present written or oral comments at the public hearing.

Two restaurants burglarized

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Two Antioch restaurants were burglarized in a similar manner within four days of each other. Luigi's Restaurant was hit on Saturday night and the Old Hickory Bar and Restaurant was hit early Tuesday morning.

There are some similarities between the two thefts. Both were the result of forcible entry and occurred late at night.

"Certainly there is a possibility they are related," said Sergeant Rick Eckenstahler.

The theft at Luigi's occurred after midnight on Oct. 7. The offenders forcibly entered the restaurant, located near the corner of Routes 83 and 173. The thieves took an undisclosed amount of cash. The Antioch Police Department are still investigating.

On Oct. 10, at approximately 3:43 a.m., the Lake County Sheriff's Department responded to an activated alarm at the Old Hickory on Routes 173 and 45.

"It appears they threw rocks through the window to gain entry," said Eckenstahler. A pry bar was also found at the scene.

Sheriff's deputies quickly arrived at the scene, however, not quick enough. "They were pretty quick," explained Eckenstahler. An undisclosed amount of cash was taken.

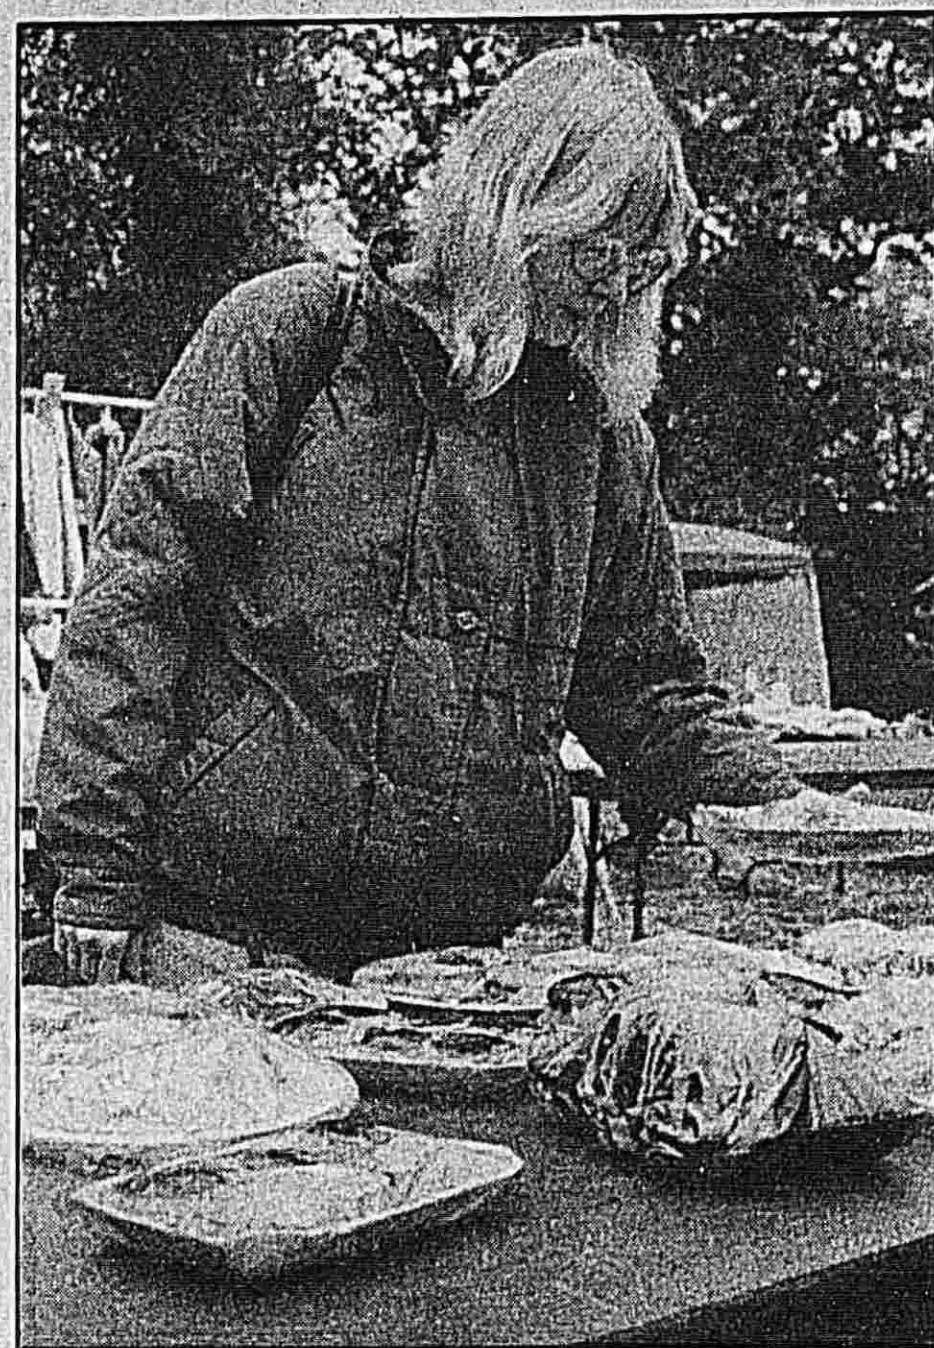

The Antioch Police Department and the Lake County Sheriff's are preparing to compare notes on the two robberies, hoping to find a common link. Eckenstahler said there have been other robberies in the area that may be connected, particularly in Gurnee.

"It seems we have a crew out there that are pretty busy late at night," he said.

The department provides educational programs to residents, from seniors to preschoolers at almost every major event. The department's fire safety house is used to teach about home safety.

This week is National Fire Prevention Week, when most fire departments emphasize fire prevention. But, Antioch Fire Department's year-round programs saved the day this time.

Before digging around home, call JULIE

If fall chores include digging around your home, Commonwealth Edison recommends that you call JULIE or DIGGER before taking your first shovelfull. Your safety and uninterrupted utility service may depend on it.

Electric, telephone and TV cables and gas, water, and sewer lines all could be cut or damaged by digging in the wrong place. That's why you should call to have your utility services located before you start your project.

The service is free. Participating utilities and municipalities will mark the locations of your services within 48 hours.

JULIE (Joint Utility Locating Information for Excavators) is the Illinois one call notification system for underground facilities. By calling JULIE toll free at 1-800-892-0123 at least 48 hours before you dig, you can avoid damaging vital underground services. When damaged, these underground facilities can endanger property and public safety — they can also be expensive and time consuming to repair.

And calling JULIE is simple. Just dial the toll free number and give the necessary information to the answering operator: county/city or county/township; section number if available; name and phone number; location extent of the excavation; description of the excavation; and the date work will begin.

JULIE will advise you of the member companies having underground facilities in the area where you plan to excavate and will then forward this location request to them.

JULIE is a non profit organization that has been in existence since 1974 — statewide since 1980. JULIE covers the entire state of Illinois with the exception of Chicago, which is covered by DIGGER (312)744-7000).

AARP 'Money After 50' workshop scheduled

Many Americans are arriving at mid-life and retirement with lower incomes than they expected and need. To help these individuals achieve personal financial security, AARP developed a new program called AARP Money After 50, designed to teach the basic skills that everyone needs to manage finances and stretch their limited dollars. By being better prepared to handle financial problems, they will be better protected when situations arise which could result in financial crisis.

Mid life Americans are not eligible for many federal and state benefits because of their age, income, assets and household size. They are not 65, the age of social security benefits and Medicare, but they do not have enough money to survive, but, due to the loss of a job, death of a spouse, divorce or disability, they are struggling to make ends meet.

The Money After 50 workshops are planned to be a hands on type of education. Each session includes group activities, discussion and experience sharing. Each participant receives their own printed workbook for use during the session and at home.

The following topics will be covered during the seven sessions: money management, record keeping, health care options, avoiding scams and frauds, setting up low risk savings and investments, available community assistance and job search assistance. The series of seven sessions are offered to the public at no charge through the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service, Lake County Unit. The sessions will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays, from 1 to 3:30 p.m. starting Nov. 14. All sessions will be held at Waukegan Township Park Place, 414 S. Lewis, Waukegan.

The series is limited to 25 people. To register for the series or for more information, contact the Cooperative Extension Service at 223-8627. This program is open to all persons regardless of race, color, religion, age, national origin, sex or disability.

Marytown to host day of reflection, Oct. 14

ELIZABETH EAKEN

Staff Reporter

The World War II invasion of Poland as the "Initiation of the Immaculate's Era" is the topic for a day of reflection being held at Marytown, in Libertyville, on October 14, from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Fr. Bernard M. Geiger, OFM Conv., past National Director for the Militia Immaculatae (MI), and present director of the Marytown office for MI-2 Groups, will present the program.

St. Maximilian Kolbe is sometimes referred to as the Auschwitz Saint because he gave his life in place of another prisoner in the infamous concentration camp. Saturday's reflection will reflect on St. Maximilian during the invasion and show how it didn't stop his "conquest of hearts for her (Virgin Mary), and her Jesus" but shifted his efforts into a higher dimension. By the Immaculate's graces and Kolbe's own total giving of himself to her, he experienced "the divination of soul" that has made him the precursor of the millions who believe they have begun to experience this as well.

Nancy Elyn Sassano, an administrative assistant at Marytown, says the main focus of the day will be the spiritual life of Kolbe at Auschwitz.

"He overcame his enemies with love, one of the hardest things humans have to do," she said. "He united himself with enemies in overlooking their flaws and it's a spiritual message of hope."

The day will start off with registration and continental breakfast at 9 a.m., followed by the first conference, a period for private devotion and/or confession, Mass and luncheon. The afternoon will conclude with a second conference, a question/answer period and closing prayers at 4:30 p.m. Registration donation is $25. Clergy and student donation is $8. The public is welcome. For more information, contact Nancy Elyn Sassano at (708) 367-7800.

Pageant seeks contestants

The Miss Northern Illinois Pageant, a preliminary to Miss Illinois-Miss America is seeking qualified young women between the ages of 17 and 24 who live, work in or attend school in Lake or McHenry County to become contestants in the 1996 Miss Northern Illinois scholarship pageant to be held Nov. 11 at Mundelein High School auditorium, Mundelein.

Participants interested in competing college scholarships, contact Penny Knox at 949-6422. No entry fees.

Warren Blazers compete in Libertyville, league action

U-10

The Warren U-10 Blazers participated in the Libertyville Octoberfest Invitational Soccer Tournament. They started out the tournament with a 2-0 win over the Johnsbury White Lightning team.

After a scoreless first half, the Blazers got on the scoreboard with an unassisted goal by Brennan O'Brien. Their second goal of the game was booted in by Spencer Masterson with an assist from Nathan Rittenberry.

In their second game, they lost to the Schaumburg Strikers by a score of 3-2. The Blazer's first goal was scored due to some great passing from Rittenberry to Kyle Bruett to Masterson, who scored the goal. The Blazers' second goal was also scored by Masterson on an assist from Bruett in the second half.

In their third and final game, the Blazers went up against the Buffalo Grove Renegades. Strong defensive performances and some missed scoring opportunities resulted in a 0-0 tie. The U-10 Blazers ended the tournament with a record of one win, one loss and one tie.

U-12

The Warren United Blazers U-12 won their first game against Lindenhurst 3-1.

T.J. Prusila made the first goal with an assist by Graham Jeep.

The team received good play by Matt Yates, John Shaw, Dan Doyle, Garrett Slemmons and Mike Berry.

In their second game, the Blazers lost to Buffalo Grove 4-1. Jeep scored the only goal, assisted by Glancy.

Playing their third game, the Blazers U-12 battled against the American Eagles and lost 3-1. Slemmons scored the goal with an assist from Glancy.

In league action, the Warren United Blazers U-12 played Schaumburg and won 3-2.

The first goal came in the first half by Prusila, assisted by Slemmons. At the end of the first half it was a tie game, 1-1.

The Blazers came alive in the second half with a second goal scored by Prusila assisted by Glancy, and the winning goal unassisted by Doyle.

U-9

The Blazers U-9 continued their winning streak with a 4-2 victory over Mundelein, bringing their conference record to 5-1.

In the first half of play, Jason Drake scored a goal assisted by Chris Fidlow to give the Blazers an early lead. Later, Kyle Olson scored off a corner kick from John Parker to give Warren the 2-1 lead going into half-time.

Bobby Reed took over in the second half, scoring two goals to provide the final margin of victory. Drake assisted on the first while the second was a solo effort.

Parker was named the player of the game for his outstanding defensive contributions and all-around play. Nick Lau also had a great defensive game. Mitch Lederer was the goalie for the entire game and had many saves.

U-13

The newly formed Gurnee Park Dist. Under 13 traveling soccer team won its first game of the season with a 2-1 victory over the Northwest Rangers.

A goal by Mike Cavanaugh, assisted by John Karner and Danny Phillips, opened the scoring for Gurnee.

An unassisted goal by Phil Ford in the second half gave them a 2-0 lead which they held on to with a strong defensive showing and goal keeping by Ken Kuss. The victory brought their record to 1-3-1.

Spikers' challenge to LF fizzles

Warren High's volleyball team challenged North Suburban Conference contender Lake Forest but could not keep up the momentum in a two-game loss.

The Blue Devils fell to 1-4 in league play with a 17-15, 15-4 loss.

The loss overshadowed another strong effort from senior Kim Laama. She had 7 kills to lead the Warren net attack.

"It might look that way (going to her for key kills) but I do not feel that kind of pressure. It's a team effort," Laama said.

The Blue Devils had a hard time against Lake Forest's varied attack.

"Their attack was very tricky and all their hits were directional," Warren Coach Felicia Moscatelli said.

Jenny Rice was 8-of-8 serving and Carrie Collins 9-of-9.

Warren battled back from an 8-4 first game deficit with a 5-1 run.

Becky Kirby served for four points and included an ace as Warren led 11-9.

But Lake Forest gained a side-out and recovered for a 13-11 lead.

Warren gained a 14-13 lead on a kill by Laama but could not put the Scouts away.

The second game was all Lake Forest as the Scouts led 9-0 before Warren gained three points on unforced errors.

The win gives Lake Forest a perfect 5-0 NSC mark.

"When you beat Stevenson, teams take notice. But I thought the turning point of the year was gaining second place at Hersey," Lake Forest Coach Chris Eiserman said.

The Blue Devils problem in NSC this year?

"In the conference, both teams come ready to play, but that is sometimes not the case in non-conference matches," Moscatelli said.

Warren (11-9 overall) was coming off a win over Evanston.

Religion, sports co-exist in fast-paced world

Dropping in on Pat McCaskey's wide-ranging talk to Gurnee Rotary Club members, one could not tell if the speaker was discussing religion, sports or a combination.

And that is just the point of the early morning address.

"With religion, family and sports there can be a balance among those three elements," McCaskey, senior vice president of the Chicago Bears, said.

The Bears offer players may chances to express their religious beliefs. John Mauer of Gurnee is team chaplain and he conducts services before games and study and chapel hours.

McCaskey said Bears founder George Halas, his grandfather, had a big impact on him. "He was a great man," McCaskey said.

McCaskey's post-talk questions dealt with stadium and practice facilities.

He said the Bears are concerned about the rising costs of attending NFL games.

"We are very concerned about that. One of our reservations with the Solider Field lease is we do not get revenue from parking or concessions," McCaskey said.

Regarding the Bears' new site of Arlington Heights, Aurora, or a rehabbed Solider Field, or north-west Indiana and the pending end-year decision.

"The Bears have been looking for a new site since 1956. We have been more than patient," he said.

As far as the new Lake Forest practice site is concerned, McCaskey said it will double the present Halas Hall facility.

In other club news:

The club reported it made its goal of $15,000 raised at its charity auction.

The charity golf outing netted $3,800.

Warren United holds tryouts

The Warren United Soccer Club will be sponsoring tryouts for boys under 17 and/or under 18 who wish to participate in travel soccer for this winter indoor and spring outdoor.

This team will be coached by George Scherlizin. Scherlizin has been a traveling soccer coach for eight years in Nebraska and a state boys championship coach.

The tryouts will be held at Grandwood Park located on Stearn School and Hutchins Roads on Sunday, Oct. 22 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. For more information, call 247-0522.

Warren Packers gain wins over Mundelein, Grayslake

Pee Wee white

Warren's Pee Wee white defeated Mundelein Wranglers 26-6.

The special teams played a great game again this week, led by the blocking of Brandon Salinas, Chris Cipolletti and Louie Perez. Alex Schmidt was able to break into the clear for a 55 yard punt return for a score. Keith Eder had a 25 yard runback on a punt later in the game.

Cory Williams scored two and Schmidt made the third rushing touchdown. Warren's two extra points came on runs by Cipolletti and Williams. Warren's offensive line was very effective. The starting offensive line was Scott Lechowicz, Kevin Kpochis, Luke Krombach, Michael David and Kevin Hagen.

Defensive standouts were Keagan Deacy, Ryan Kalinowski, Eric Orthey, Arron Paulina and Matt Taylor. Krombach recovered a fumble.

Pee Wee blue

Warren's blue team fell to 0-2-3 with a loss to the undefeated Grayslake Colts, 21-0. The score did not reflect how close the game really was. On this day there were no individual standouts. It was a total team effort.

Feather white

The Warren Featherweight white team defeated the Mundelein Broncos 27-6.

Warren's touchdowns were scored by Jason DeBoer, Tommy Kiesgan, Chris Crandall and Jared Yost. Extra points were scored by DeBoer and Zack Nollin.

Warren's offense was dominated by the fine blocking of Matt Dusek, Adam Slater, Damien Crooks and Jay Schaefer.

The defense (which shut out Mundelein until the last play of the game), was led by Adam Zwolfer, Danny Baldwin, Jeff Donohoe and Joey Pultorak.

Feather blue

Warren Featherweight blue played at Grayslake Sunday and won 20-0.

Warren's offense was highlighted by the blocking of Charles Thomas, Jeff Scalbom, Phillip Jagielski, Josh Kosmach and David Dempsey.

Touchdowns were by Clint Koehler, Kevin Tiernan and Matt Roe. Extra points were by Jordan Kline and Koehler.

The defense recorded its second shutout in a row. Leading in tackles were Nick Barnes, Blake Lanciloti, Justin Foster, Chris Hart and Tim Matzl. Warren had interceptions by Juan Alvarado and Ed Stole. Also, Art Torres and Barnes recovered fumbles.

Varsity

The Warren Varsity Packers battled Mundelein under the lights at Carmel High School and came away with a 20-7 victory.

Warren opened the scoring with a 41-yard touchdown pass from David Mohr to Tim Hood. Wade Bundy kicked the two-point conversion.

Jake Kosmach recovered a Mundelein fumble at the Mundelein 35-yard line. Six plays later, Mohr carried the ball in from the 1-yard line for the Packers' second touchdown.

Josh Gray notched Warren's final touchdown with a 31 yard dash following the great blocking of Justin Hubbard, CJ Cusker and Scott Plichta.

Warren's offensive line controlled the line of scrimmage with David Pipenbrink, Chad Smith and Matthew Van Daele leading.

Defensive leaders for Warren were Eric Waters, Josh Schild and Brandon Christenson, with Matt Culberson getting an interception from the safety position. Stevie Falatico, Dustin Walsh and Tazz Anderson all helped ensure a Warren victory with fine special teams play.

Reich, Olson garner wins for Warren netters in NSC

A third-place medal and two consolation round wins were highlights for Warren High in the tough North Suburban Conference tournament.

Laura Reich gained a third place in second singles as she beat a Libertyville foe 6-3, 5-7, 6-4.

"She got a little smarter in the third set and was more consistent. She moved her opponent around," Warren Coach Chris Cowel said.

Reich came back from an injury for the Round Lake invite and has been playing consistently, Cowel said.

Katie Olson gained two wins in consolation play at first singles. Her wins were over Angie DeVore of Zion-Benton and Sarah Norring of Mundelein, both in two sets.

"She played some of her better tennis against DeVore. She was very consistent," Cowel said.

Warren settled for a tie for fifth place with host Zion-Benton at the NSC meet with six points. Warren's seven overall points in league play gave it sixth place of seven teams. Lake Forest won the title by two points over Stevenson.

Warren (4-5 overall) made up a match at Grayslake Oct. 11 before the McHenry sectional Oct. 14.

"It depends on the seeds," Cowel said of chances there.

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The countdown has begun at St. Peter School for the 14th Annual Footlights. Decorators are already beginning the process which turns a large part of the school into a weekend nightclub and casino.

"This is our 14th year," said Linda Pederson, one of the Footlights coordinators. "It brings in a lot of money for the school."

While hard to describe, Footlights is one of Antioch's biggest events of the fall. It is 10 rooms of music, dancing, singing, dining, gambling, comedy, acting, and just plain fun. For the price of admission, visitors can enjoy as many shows as time permits and the shows run continuously all night long.

New this year is the Country and Western Room, Dan's Hoe Down Jamboree. Live music provided by Exit South will keep dancers "in line." And, for those who have never tried line dancing, instructors will be available.

Return to the days of the Pharaohs in "Tut's Tomb." The music of Grease and Lost Childhood will be rocking the pyramids all night.

Pete's Street Diner will offer 1950s drive-in style food and atmosphere. Blue plate specials as well as Pete's meatloaf, turkey platter, and more will remind diners tastebuds of a kinder, gentler time. Food at Pete's will be catered by Maravelas.

Another new room this year will be Company C. Musical talents of Lloyd Pederson, Jane Miles, Donna Shehorn, and Jeff Smith will make you believe you are back "in the army now" with their tunes of the 1940s.

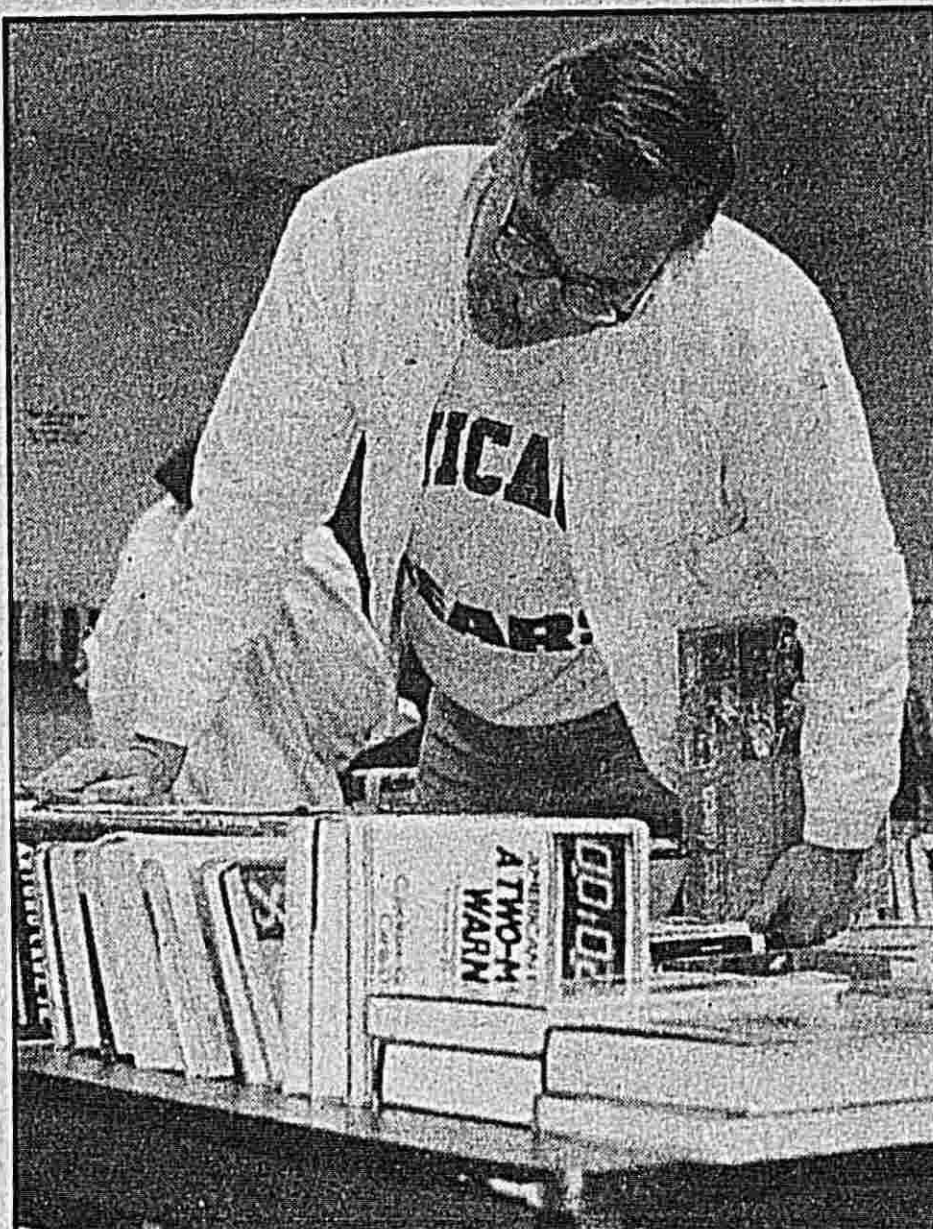

Cafe Intervention, produced by Phoenix Rising Productions, will feature improvisational humor. And, of course, Black Jack and Diamond Jim's Full House Casino will return. Touted as the oldest established casino in Antioch, Black Jacks offers poker, craps, big wheel, roulette and band, along with blackjack.

Antioch's Footlights favorite, Lip-Sync will be back this year. "There are some new people in their," said Pederson. "There will be some surprises."

There are so many things happening at Footlights, it is almost impossible to mention. But, to find out for yourself you have to get a ticket.

In advance, tickets cost $8 per person for Friday nights and $10 for Saturday nights. At the door, tickets are $10 on Fridays and $12 on Saturdays.

Footlights opens its doors at 6 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 3. It will continue on Nov. 4, Nov. 10 and Nov. 11. Tickets can be purchased at all area banks, St. Peter's Rectory, Prince of Peace Rectory in Lake Villa, American Family Insurance, Reality World-Tiffany, and at Osmond Insurance.

Grant Gala successful, fun

Much to the surprise of attendees and Grant High School officials, more than $12,000 was raised at the first ever Grant Gala Dinner Dance.

The students and education at Grant are the real big winners. All proceeds went to help enhance the school.

Those who came to the event held in the historic Mineola Hotel ballroom last weekend told Trudy Hellios, Gala coordinator, how much they enjoyed the Gala. "Most people said this should have been done before," she said.

While many had never been to a silent auction before, the one at the Gala was a lot of fun for them, and was the highlight of the evening, Hellios explained.

Over 114 people attended the event, and community members and businesses gathered to donate time and materials towards the Gala. As soon as guests arrived, Grant students were ready to greet them, checking their coats and handing each female guest a wrist corsage donated by David Daudelein of Ralph's Florist. Cindy Irwin of Balloons to You decorated the hall in the school colors. Programs were donated by Shoreline Graphics.

Two Grant graduates, Krista Koske and Anne Sayles, who is also the current Miss Fox Lake, sang for the audience.

A live auction was presented, and Harlan Dam of ComEd performed the auctioning. Some of the auction items were one week trips to Mexico, a time of golfing in Florida, a day in Springfield with a state senator, a seven-course gourmet Italian Dinner for six, airplane rides and winter ski trips.

Later, guests danced till midnight to the sounds of Entertainment Plus.

The Gala was sponsored by the Grant Community High School Partnership for Academic Excellence.—by TINA L. SWIECH

Picnic permit day nears at forest preserve

One lucky picnicker, the first person to make a picnic reservation on Saturday, Oct. 21, will receive his or her permit at no charge. From 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., the Lake County Forest Preserves will issue picnic permits for 1996.

More than 200 permits are expected to be issued the first day. The 20 Forest Preserve picnic shelters range in capacity of up to 700 people. People who want specific locations and dates are encouraged to come in early.

to 4 p.m. on Saturdays.

Opportunities for photography and interviews will be available. For more information, call

Amy Purcell, marketing and special events coordinator, at 367-3676, ext. 125.

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE

Editor in Chief

Robert "Bob" Neal of Wadsworth will emphasize his management skills and business background in his bid for Lake County Recorder of Deeds.

After weeks of speculation, Neal made the official announcement of his candidacy Oct. 11. He vows to continue the office's long-standing tradition of being non-political.

Neal will be challenged in the GOP primary by Alberta Meyer of Fox Lake, who works in the Recorder of Deeds Office.

Neal believes he possesses the qualities necessary to being a good recorder including a strong business background, the ability to manage technical programs, a reputation for being good with people, a knowledge of computers and an understanding of county government.

"This office must have the ability to give users the highest degree of confidence that their recordings will be handled efficiently and professionally," Neal said. "The Recorder's responsibility is the accurate and timely maintenance of files to $35.8 billion worth of Lake County land. A simple error can cost hours of work and hundreds of dollars in legal fees to resolve."

Neal has served 11 years in municipal government, four years in township office and 13 years on the county board. He currently represents Dist. 2 on the county board.

"It has been a goal of mine for some time to serve on the county level," said Neal, who is also a past chairman of the Lake County Republican Party. "Once I heard Frank Nustra was considering retirement, and after I had done some 'homework,' I was convinced the Recorder position would be a perfect fit. I believe the time is right."

Neal also readily agrees his career in politics will be an issue in the campaign, including the controversial Yorkhouse Road extension plan.

"Yorkhouse Road is becoming a county issue because people are banding together from throughout the county to fight what they believe are environmental issues," Neal said. "The individuals opposed to the extension of Rte. 53 are joining with those opposed to Yorkhouse Road. They think supporting each other will be a trade-off."

Neal, who has taken a great deal of public heat on securing the right-of-way for the Yorkhouse extension, has often said his feelings on the roadway have been misunderstood. "I do not support building the road at this time."

Neal is also the owner of a small electronic service company which he founded in 1961 following his discharge from the U.S. Navy. Neal watched the company grow to be the third largest consumer electronic service company in Illinois, at one time employing 27 people. Today, Neal is semi-retired but remains company president.

"I have always brought a business perspective to my work in government. The ability to manage people, knowledge of computers, and a 'people person' attitude toward customer service are skills which will bring success in the Recorder's job," Neal said.

AirFest future uncertain following crash

ALEC JUNGE

The Lake County Family YMCA has not yet decided whether plans will be made for a sixth YMCA AirFest following the death of a pilot during this year's show.

Philip Smith, 28, of Highland Park, apparently was finishing a maneuver when his Pitts Special plane hit the ground and burst into flames. The accident occurred at the Waukegan Regional Airport.

Smith was an accomplished pilot who also flew for United Airlines for the past eight years.

"I was right next to the fire engines and for a few seconds no one moved," said Tom Gnidovic, who witnessed the crash. "Everybody was shocked."

Gnidovic said it seemed as if Smith was flying at an altitude which was too low for the stunt he was trying perform.

Gnidovic, a pilot and a frequent viewer of air shows, saw the last maneuver and felt something was amiss. He said the formation for this particular stunt requires the pilot perform a square-like pattern but it appeared to him as if Smith went in a triangular pattern.

"He may have blacked out for a few seconds and tried to correct it but he didn't have enough time," Gnidovic said.

Lake County Coroner's office pronounced Smith dead a few minutes after arrival at St. Therese Hospital in Waukegan. He was severely burned when Waukegan Firefighters were able to reach him.

The plane crashed at the far end of the runway.

The accident is under investigation by the See AIRFEST page B2

Church affirms all sexuality is a 'gift of God'

Final in a two-part series

NEAL TUCKER

Staff Reporter

In the 1850s, Waukegan's oldest church congregation had a theological disagreement that split the church. The 13 members that remained in the First Congregational United Church of Christ devoutly believed slavery was wrong. It was a monumental position.

Earlier this year, the church went through another metamorphosis that was deeply studied, but proved to be less cataclysmic. The church and all its members adopted a statement of "opening its doors to and affirming the lives of gay, lesbian and bisexual persons."

A majority of the congregation is heterosexual.

"This is the most significant theme we have dealt with since dealing with slavery during the Civil War. People then used the Bible to justify slavery," said Marilyn Moiso, Deacon for Mission & Social Action for the church.

Moiso, a heterosexual, actually started the several month See CHURCH page B8

County of Lake breaks ground for 509-spot parking garage

Ground has been broken for the County of Lake's new 509-spot parking garage that is expected to open in about one year.

The two-story garage with one level of underground parking will be built to the north of and connecting to the County Building, 18 N. County St., Waukegan. The garage will sit between Utica Street on the west, and County Street on the east. Vehicles will both enter and exit the garage from County Street.

"The garage should look great and will be a most welcome addition to the county complex," said Lake County Chairman of the Board Robert W. Depke. "The public, those on jury duty, and employees will be thrilled that they will be able to park close to the County Building and conduct their business."

People will be able to park and access the County Building from a connecting link from the garage, which will be pre-cast construction, with the connecting link made of brick, steel and glass, with a touch of color.

Lake County Public Building Commission Chairman Esper A. Petersen said, "Our new garage will fit in well with the lines, design and texture of both the County Building and the Waukegan Public Library." The Building Commission owns and insures the property and building, and the county rents from the commission. Cost for the parking garage is $4.1 million, which will be paid for by existing funds, Petersen said.

"The new facility also will be more accessible and convenient for the public," Petersen added. There will be handicapped accessibility to the north, toward the library, to the east, toward County Street, and to the west, toward Utica Street.

Depke said that over the years, the county has been looking at the parking situation and had considered various proposals, though more recently, plans for the garage have been evolving for about one year. The Public Building Commission studied the parking situation, hired an architect and a parking consultant to help determine the number of parking spaces needed.

Accommodations have been made for interim parking, as two parking lots that exist today will cease operation on or about Oct. 2, said Buildings Manager Charles Underwood. The two existing county parking lots had a combined 193 spaces, and were located where the new garage will sit.

County of Lake parking in the interim during construction is being moved to two lots on nearby West Street, one block west of Utica Street. Seventy spaces will be available at the Ameritech lot, on the west side of West Street, toward Washington Street. Fifty spaces will be available at the First Church of Christ Scientist, 230 N. West St. County permits for these two sites will be required.

Directional signage will be instituted as needed to help people find interim parking.

For more information about the parking garage, call the Public Building Commission at 360-6550.

The Tradition Starts With You

Libertyville Bank & Trust Company has just opened, bringing with it a hometown tradition that has been missing from this area for too long.

Be part of this historic occasion. When you open a "Founder" account, you'll help launch the only locally owned and managed bank around. Plus, you'll lock in a lifetime of incredible banking benefits:

- Your checking account, believe it or not, will not require a minimum balance — there will not be a monthly service charge — and that's FOR LIFE;
- Your first 200 personal-size checks from our exclusive "Libertyville Collection" depicting familiar scenes of the area are FREE (and if you have a supply of unused checks at another bank, we'll buy them back for up to $10);
- The face of your checks will always bear the designation "Founder" distinguishing you as a pioneer in bringing community banking back to Libertyville;
- You will always receive a premium interest rate of .25% above our regular published annual percentage yield (APY) on closed-end certificates of deposit FOR LIFE;
- You may be eligible FOR LIFE to never pay more than the floating Prime Rate on a Home Equity Line of Credit. Home Equity Lines of Credit over $100,000 will pay the floating Prime Rate less .25%. Application fees, closing costs and annual fees will be waived. From page B1
National Transportation Safety Board. The investigation is expected to take a year. Investigators indicated there appeared to be nothing mechanically wrong with the plane.

Smith was an experienced pilot, with over 7,000 hours of flight experience. He was a commercial pilot for eight years.

This is the first accident or injury of any kind in the five years the event has been held.

Phillip Baaske, president of Lake County YMCA said no decision has been made if the event will be held again next year.

"We all get together at the end of November and begin planning for the event. We can't decide that until we discuss that until November," Baaske said.

AT A GLANCE

Students help village

LAKE VILLA—District 41 students are assisting the village of Lake Villa study water quality of Lake Villa Creek which flows into Deep Lake and eventually into the Chain of Lakes. The village is attempting to get water quality grants to allow construction of ponds to collect storm water before it enters the creek so it is cleaner when it flows into the lakes. The students took water samples and will provide the village with their findings.

Mile of quarters coming

LINDENHURST—Community Outreach United Resident Against Gang Environment (COURAGE) will try to gather a "mile of quarters" to help raise funds for the non-profit organization. The event will be held at Linden Plaza Oct. 21 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The group also will tie a mile-long red ribbon in honor of slain police officer Enrique Camerina who was shot in Mexico by drug dealers. Proceeds from the event will help defray the costs of positive activities and events sponsored by the group.

Injured cyclist improving

FOX LAKE—A motorcyclist who was tossed from his Harley Davidson and onto a roadway is improving day by day after being flown to the Lutheran General Hospital in Park Ridge. According to Fox Lake paramedics who treated Kary Harvey, on Oct. 7 around 1:50 a.m., the 30-year-old Fox Lake cyclist had his right leg operated on several times, as well as treatment to a dislocated left shoulder. Police explain Harvey was cited for speeding. Reports show he hit the rear of a car driven by Richard M. Moore of Spring Grove. Moore and his passenger, Timothy Fanella of McHenry, did not require medical attention.

Man faces child sex charges

KILDEER—Lake County authorities are continuing to investigate what some authorities have called the most shocking case of child pornography they have ever seen. Leroy Simon, 64, of Kildeer, was charged with two counts of child pornography and criminal sexual abuse after authorities found photographs, video tapes and other materials hidden throughout his home late last week, reports said. Officials learned of the case after two children reported alleged incidents of abuse to their parents, who then contacted Lake County Sheriff's Police Oct. 5, reports said. Simon allegedly provided officials with a statement admitting to producing the various materials and being involved in various sexual contact with children, from ages four to early teens reports said. Simon is being held at the Lake County Jail on $500,000 bond, far exceeding the typical $25,000 to $50,000 bond set for defendants in child-molestation cases, reports said. He was scheduled to appear in court next Oct. 11 for a status of attorney hearing.

TV repairman dies in vehicle

FOX LAKE—A part-time television technician who wasn't feeling well, decided to go home and rest, but never made it. On Monday around 2 p.m. James Lowman, 64 of Wilson Road in Ingleside had just pulled away from his job at TV Hink on Grand Avenue in Fox Lake, when he suddenly lost control of his vehicle and smashed into two cars and a house. When Fox Lake paramedics arrived, attempts made to revive Lowman were in vain. Officials believe he may have had a heart attack while driving. According to the McHenry County Coroner's office, Lowman died from trauma to his heart. Whether it was a heart attack, or the slim chance it was due to the accident, is yet to be determined.

Prevention education pays off

ANTIOCH—The Antioch Fire Department fire prevention education program has really paid off this week in Antioch. Over the weekend, a child was trapped in an upstairs bedroom when an unattended pan on the stove caught fire. Instead of hiding or panicking, the child opened the bedroom window and yelled for help. Before fire trucks arrived on the scene, neighbors used an extension ladder and rescued the child. "He did exactly what we taught him," said Captain Rich Frankson. "He did not panic or hide. Public education sure paid off in this situation." The Antioch Fire Department visits all of the local schools, community events, and holds an open house to help the entire community learn about fire prevention during the year.

Mixed-use land plan wins nod

GURNEE—Despite the efforts of some of Gurnee's newest residents and long-time neighbors, a mixed use development for western Gurnee cleared a hurdle. Gurnee Plan Commission members voted 5-0 to send a favorable recommendation for a single-family home, commercial and townhome project south of Route 132 and east of Knowles Road. The area is about 75 acres. The development is expected to bring 500 new residents to Gurnee. Plans call for 112 townhomes and 91 single-family homes. Commissioners discussed at the close of the three-hour meeting if some of the commercial could be office use. This is at the conceptual stage and further plan commission hearings on the development will be held.

Police spoil computer scam

VERNON HILLS—Vernon Hills police spoiled a major con job when they arrested and charged Stacey Bjorgo, 32, of Bolingbrook for attempted theft by deception over $10,000, which is considered a felony. According to police, John Lynn of Milwaukee contacted Vernon Hills police after he received a tip to purchase $116,000 worth of computer equipment for $29,000. Police said Lynn was suppose to meet Bjorgo at Hawthorn Center Mall near Sears. Bjorgo asked for the payment and told Lynn to pick up the computers at Sears. Lynn declined and a scuffled ensued before undercover police apprehended the suspect. "It was all a scam. There were never any computers," said Police Chief Gary Kupsak. "He was going to collect $29,000 and give give him a bogus receipt to pick up the computers." Police cautioned residents to contact police if something appears too good to be true.

Marytown to host program

LIBERTYVILLE—St. Maximilian Kolbe will be the topic of a day of reflection at Marytown on Oct. 14. During World War II, Kolbe perished at the Auschwitz camp when he offered his life in place of another prisoner. Activities will include conferences, masses and a luncheon. The public is invited to share in this experience. For more information call 367-7800.

Village approves emission law

GRAYSLAKE—To the relief of the taxpayers, Grayslake will continue to accept more industry in the village limits, but residents will not see the downside of the black smoke belching from industrial stacks. This won't even be the case just outside the village limits. Now in force, the Village of Grayslake has a stringent ordinance in force to control industrial emissions, including foul smells. And in accordance with state statute, the ordinance is in force for any industrial development setting up shop within one mile of the village limits. The emission ordinance is in check with other industrial ordinances to protect nearby residential neighborhoods, such as from light and noise. According to Village Manager Mike Ellis, the emission restrictions are stringent, as well as somewhat unique. To be certain the ordinance was not prohibitive to light industrial companies already in operation, Ellis said the ordinance was "road-tested" before the village board approved it.

Rinaolo to challenge Porter in GOP Primary

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE
Editor in Chief

Richard Rinaolo believes the

fact that he has no previous experience as an elected official is a positive in his bid to unseat veteran John Porter in the 10th district Republican primary.

Rinaolo says he will challenge Porter on his voting record, a record he feels proves the veteran Congressman is not supporting GOP ideals.

"Porter was one of only 12 Republicans to vote no on the tax and spending cuts provision of the Republican Contract with America," said Rinaolo.

Rinaolo is running as a member of the new generation of Republicans "who are joining the battle to restrain government spending, lower taxes and restore the family as the centerpiece of American culture." Rinaolo says he fears for the future of his country.

"One thing is for certain, this country is on the wrong track, and to my mind there are too many people in Washington busy promoting their own careers as we glide into ruin," Rinaolo said.

Rinaolo, 29, has been active in the Republican Party since high school.

He graduated from the University of Chicago and holds a masters of arts in the classics. Following graduate school, he was an instructor in Latin and Greek at the University of Chicago, where he gained an award for excellence in teaching.

Rinaolo says his experiences as a professor put him in touch with future leaders and has provided him with a unique perspective on what young professional Americans are looking for in government.

"There is a growing sense of discontent in this country," Rinaolo said. "We need courage and bold people in Congress. I would go to Washington without any strings attached."

Rinaolo has met with many Republican leaders throughout the area and has worked on the campaigns of Al Salvi (R-52nd) and Phil Crane (R-8th Dist). During the campaign, he will be following grassroots strategies and plans to personally visit more than 15,000 residents of the 10th district. The main focus of his campaign will be bringing tax relief to families.

Simmons: Unchecked growth costly

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

Long Grove Village President Lenore Simmons fears the glowing economic future of Lake County as presented in the Lake County Framework Plan could prove more costly to taxpayers and increase traffic congestion.

The Framework Plan specifically notes that jobs have outpaced population growth in Lake County, and it further admits that promoting more jobs increases traffic congestion, damages environmental amenities and creates more costs to provide for additional infrastructure.

"They (county board members) charge full speed ahead to promote more of it (economic growth) even though it means more taxes for all of us to pay for the congestion, public facilities and affordable housing," Simmons wrote in her letter.

One of the engines that will promote more economic growth in unincorporated areas of Lake County is the proposed extension of Route 53 from Lake-Cook Road to Route 120 in Grayslake, Simmons said.

Although the tollway extension is planned to bisect portions of Long Grove, Hawthorn Woods and Mundelein, Simmons argues there will be a trickle-down effect of development around the tollway extension in southern and western Lake County.

"In the long run, there's going to be more congestion with this tollway, and the taxpayers are going to pay for it," Simmons said.

She compared Lake County to DuPage County, where corporate development and superhighways are abundant. Recent studies have also shown that taxes have increased in DuPage County, despite a vigorous economy.

"I think Lake County should learn from DuPage County, so we don't fall into the same problems," Simmons pointed out.

Lake County Board member Pamela Newton of Vernon Hills said the Framework Plan does not take a position in favor or against the Route 53 extension, but it does include it as part of an overall traffic scheme to relieve congestion.

Newton said, however, one way to handle future development is through new zoning in unincorporated areas of Lake County. She supports conservation zoning and developments which promote less density and land preservation similar to the W.W. Grainger office campus in Mettawa and the Prairie Crossing housing development in Grayslake.

"We've moved away from being pro-development or environmentalists to focusing on quality of life," Newton said. "Neither is going to be a successful. It's a combination of both."

Simmons agreed that there needs to be a mix of economic growth and land preservation. She also said widening existing roads such as Routes 22, 176, 45 and 83 would do much to relieve congestion as opposed to building a superhighway which will clog existing road networks.

"The county's roads are in the state they were in 20 years ago. Unfortunately, current boards have to fix the mistakes of past boards," Simmons said. "If we can control development and widen roads, it would help lessen congestion."

Admiral Tracey to address WINGS

WINGS, Lake County Women Interested in Government Service, will have Rear Admiral Patricia Ann Tracey, Commander, Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, as the speaker for their fall meeting. Her topic will be, "Have Women Made a Difference in the Military?" She will also discuss the mission of Great Lakes.

The meeting will be held Oct. 21 at Raffaelli's, 1765 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville. For more information, call Faith Sage, president, at 362-3992.

Salvi on tour with Russians

It was a scene that would not have happened five years ago.

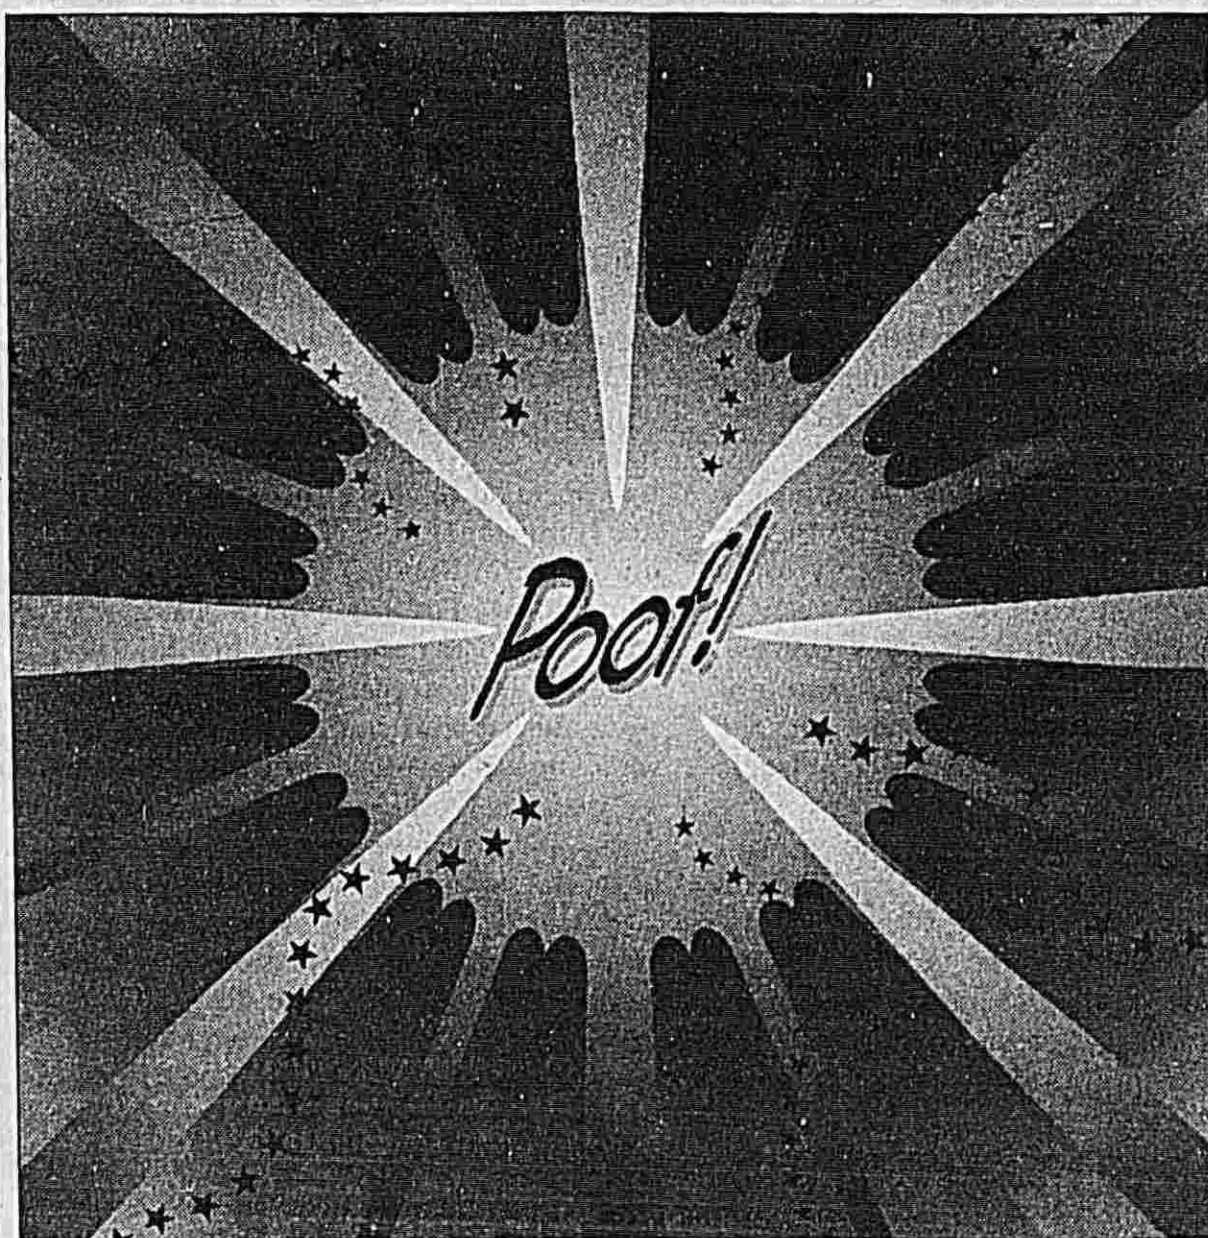

State Rep. Al Salvi (R-52nd), Lake County Sheriff Clint Grinnell, Undersheriff Gary DelRe and jail administrator Larry Lesza guided a delegate from Russia on a tour of Lake County jail facilities to give them a first-hand look at how the U.S. criminal justice system works.

"They called and asked me to organize something in the Chicago land area where they could see first-hand the criminal justice system," said Salvi. "They told us there is a lot of corruption in their own system and they are looking for ways to improve it. They would like to localize their systems similar to the one in the U.S."

Salvi said the Russian delegate was very inquisitive and was particularly interested in the American system of checks and balances which serve to guard against corruption.

County Democrats seek to open 'Dialogue With America'

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Instead of a "Contract With America," Lake County Democrats want to institute a "Dialogue With America."

More than 100 Lake County Democrats met for an informal breakfast to discuss concerns, needs and directions of the Democratic Party in Lake County.

"It was a good input of ideas, and there was a good cross-section of people from across the county represented," said Lake County Democratic Chairman Terry Link.

A number of Lake County Democrat notables such as former State Rep. Grace Mary Stern, Kathy Ryg, who ran unsuccessfully for Lake County Clerk and County Board member Carol Spielman of Highland Park attended the event.

There were no grand speeches or rallying cries, but Link noted the breakfast was more of a brainstorming session for upcoming elections.

In light of the well-publicized Republican slogan, "Contract With America," Link said the Democrats have come up with a slogan of their own, "Dialogue With America."

"I feel better everyday," Link said. "There are many things that are happening across the county and the state that indicate that some of these grand plans by the Republicans are going to hurt people."

He cited federal cuts in Medicare and Social Security as examples.

Locally, Link said there will be a Democratic challenger for all four countywide offices up for election in 1996 including the Recorder of Deeds, the Circuit Court Clerk, the State Attorney's Office and the Coroner.

"There are a couple of people who have expressed an interest in each of those seats, but we are not circulating petitions yet," Link said.

He also said there will be Democratic challengers for all 16 County Board positions. He intends to retain the five Democrat County Board seats to be contested next year. There are currently six Democrat County Board members.

"I think there are 11 County Board seats that can be captured by Democrats, and I think we can keep our five County Board seats," Link said.

Some of the goals and themes Democrats outlined during their breakfast include:

- Bringing youth into active participation;
- Broadening its outreach;
- Improving media relations;
- Not abandoning the history of the Democratic party;
- Emphasizing what's good for the county and the country;
- Standing behind party candidates from President Clinton down to precinct committeemen;

Ryan, Lumpkin to speak about violence in County

Jim Ryan, attorney general of Illinois, and John Lumpkin, director of Illinois Department of Public Health, will be the keynote speakers at a day-long community forum addressing the growing problem of violence in Lake County and an action plan to deal with it. Ryan and Lumpkin will speak at 9 a.m. Oct. 19 at the College of Lake County auditorium, 19351 W. Washington St., Grayslake.

The forum entitled, "Framework for Action: Creating a Peaceful Lake County One Person at a Time," will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. In addition to keynote presentations, the program will include two panel discussions at 10 and 11 a.m. and group sessions in the afternoon.

An interdisciplinary panel, consisting of educators, community leaders, law enforcement officials and experts on domestic violence, will identify problems of violence in the community and domestic violence, and present solutions already working in Lake County and other communities. A countywide action plan will be developed in the afternoon and presented to the Lake County Board and Lake County city governments.

The $40 registration fee includes a continental breakfast, lunch, and handouts. Students may attend the morning sessions free of charge. For information, call 223-6601, ext. 2926.

Legislators speak out at AAUW meeting

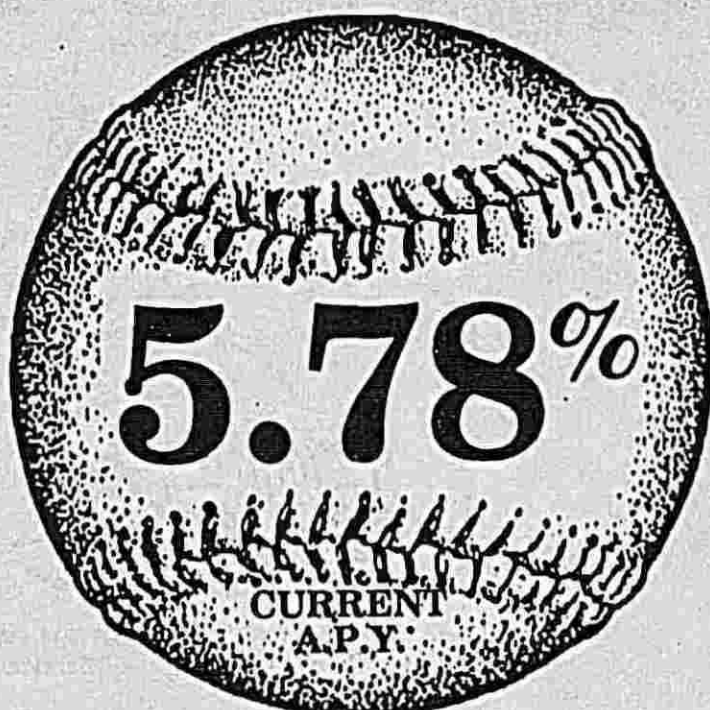

The AAUW Mid-Lake County Branch, the Libertyville/Mundelein League of Women Voters and the Alpha Nu Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma invite the local public to a Legislative Breakfast on Saturday, Oct. 14, 10 a.m. to noon, Libertyville Twp. Hall, Merrill Ct., Libertyville.

Lake County representatives Mary Beth Gash, Verna Clayton, Adeline Geo-Karis, and Andrew Moore will answer questions and tell us their proposals to solve problems of school funding, high taxes, traffic, and State Income Tax.

Members, former members, and guests are invited. For information, call 367-1950.

process of openly affirming gays in the church after overhearing a discussion by several church members. They were making what she described as disparaging remarks toward gays. She happened to know one of the young men in the church was gay, even though he was not 'out,' she empathized with him.

"As a mother, I would be extremely hurt if I heard someone from the church say gays were not acceptable," she said.

But she had a dual purpose for wanting to bring the subject into the open. She also hoped the congregation would send a formal message to the pastor that he too was welcome in the church. Brad Lutz, pastor of the church since 1992, is also a homosexual. Moisio felt Lutz's sexual orientation was far less important than his pastoral gift and his humanity as a whole.

"We had to affirm Brad as a person," Moisio said point blank.

When confirmed as pastor in the faith in 1974, Lutz said he hadn't actually come to terms with his homosexuality. He did so later after a great deal of personal conflict.

"It was a process of personal struggle with what I heard society say and what I felt inside. For me, the coming out experience was a very spiritual one," Lutz recalled.

After embracing who he truly was Lutz began looking for a pastorate that would not restrict him based on his sexual orientation. When he interviewed with the church council for the position in Waukegan, he did not emblazon a sign on his chest that screamed 'homosexual,' but neither did he make any effort to hide his real self.

When the church began the process of affirming "each individual's sexuality is a gift from God," Lutz was elated. The church went through six intensive sessions, discussing gay inclusion on a social and theological level.

Children were also given a chance to understand the process. Lutz explained that some boys like boys and some girls like girls. The children also heard a story about a boy with two fathers who spent a great deal of quality time with him. That same boy in the story had friends whose fathers were generally too busy working to spend much time with their sons.

Even though the sessions were well attended and seemed to be well received, Lutz was still apprehensive before the church vote. He knew if the affirmation was not approved, he would once again need to begin his search for a place of inclusion. It was not a possibility he relished.

"I didn't want to go some place where I would have to live in compartments any longer," Lutz said.

The church approved the vote but knew they would open themselves up to personal opinion, theological dispute from Bible intellectuals and Christian laymen and outright prejudice. There would be standard approaches in disagreeing with the church on a Biblical platform but Lutz and Moisio felt those roads had already been thoroughly traveled during the affirmation process.

The book of Leviticus in the Old Testament has passages that describe how men should not have intercourse with other men. Lutz said that passage, like many others in the Bible, has been taken out of context by concentrating on one sound bite in order to achieve a specific goal. He said the societal culture also has to be for a gay man to be attracted to another gay man. Lutz says the Bible is used too often to condemn people when that is not its intended use at all.

"The question is how do you use the Bible in a positive way instead of to beat people over the executive vice president United Church board considered. Included with the passage is a whole host of other wrongs that make people ritually unclean, such as eating ritually unclean food. Ritual matters dealt with priests, Lutz said.

Romans 1:26,27 says men who give up their natural sexual relations with women and burn with passion for other men are doing shameful things with each other and as a result deserve to be punished. Lutz first answers that question by addressing the endless debate of whether people are born gay or make a decision to follow that lifestyle.

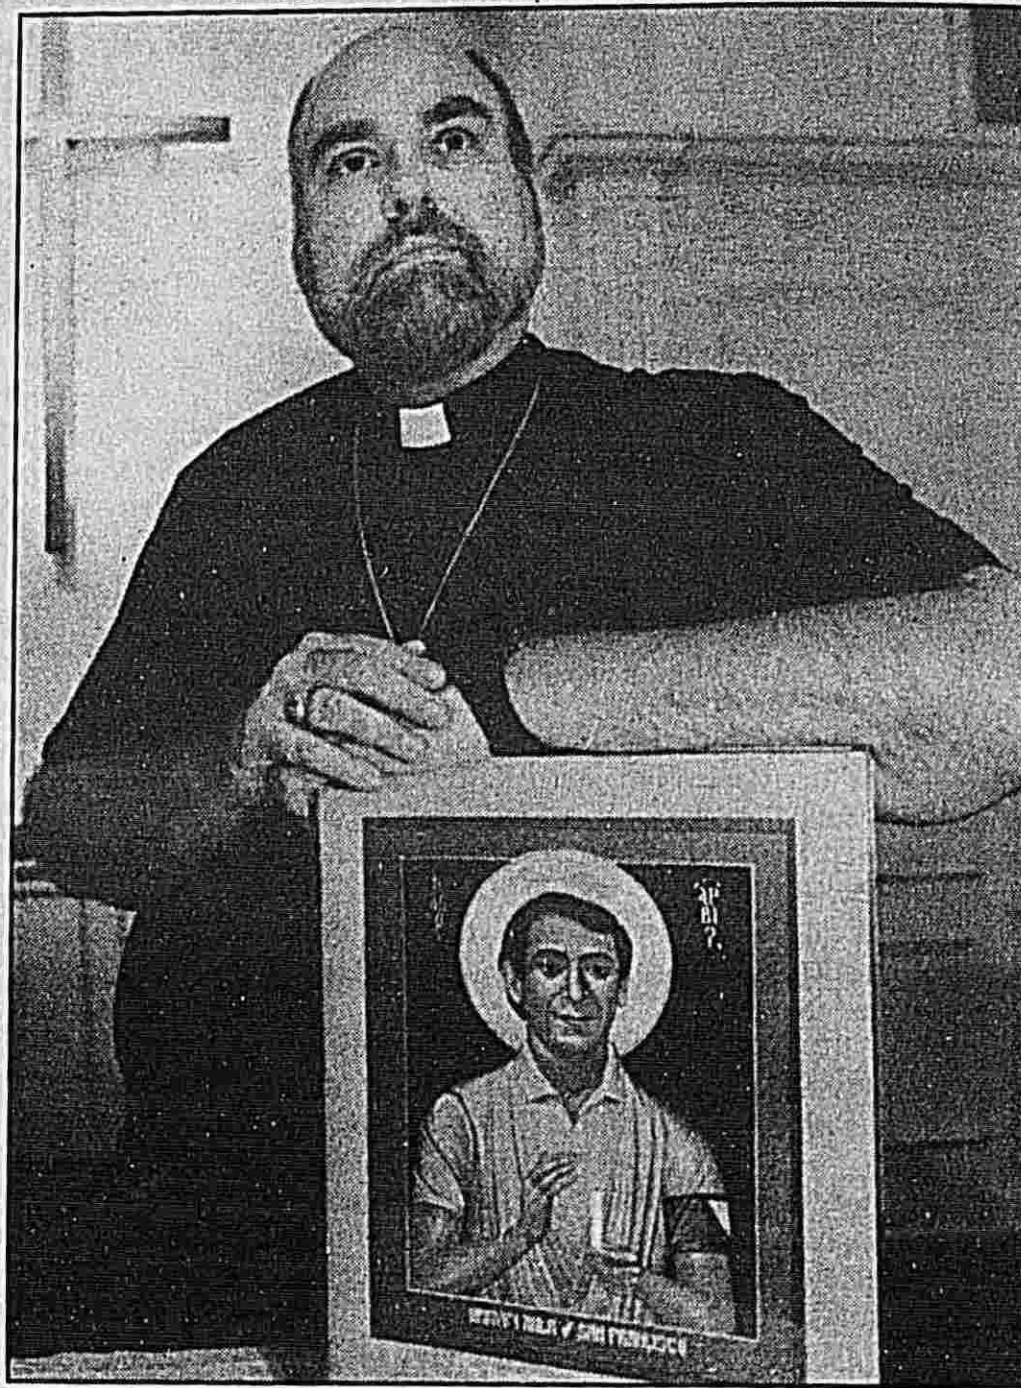

Lutz believes people do not make the choice to be gay and therefore gay men do not give up their natural relations with women. Simply put, it is natural head. I can come up with 250 passages on how to treat people who are different and they begin to put things in a positive light," Lutz said.

Borrowing a phrase from Jesus Christ, Lutz said people should love their neighbors as themselves. Perhaps a passage written by Thomas E. Dipko in the front of the denomination's new hymnals, which have some rewritten lyrics to be certain they are inclusive, expresses the church's statement most clearly.

"Where language fails us, we live with confidence that the holy spirit intercedes for us with sighs too deep for words," Dipko wrote.

An Area Guide to Home Design, Remodeling and Real Estate

Fran and Joe Dolack have been planning their dream house for more than five years. In five months time they have transformed their 1,800-square-foot home into more than 4,000-square-feet creating the home of their dreams.

"We knew what we wanted to do," said Fran Dolack. "We were looking to create a very open floor plan and to provide each family member with a private place."

The Dolacks have two children, Joe III, 13, and Ben, 6.

Armed with blueprints, Fran and Joe set off to find the right store to provide the finishing touches which would make the house gleam with their own personal touch.

"I wanted to work with a store where I could do one-stop shopping for design, installation and products," said Fran. Frustrated with the "sales driven" approach she found at local national chainstores and the lack of help offered at large warehouse do-it-yourself stores, Fran found the assistance she needed at Floor to Ceiling in Mundelein.

Floor to Ceiling is a family-owned and operated franchise offering complete design and installation of a large stock of materials including flooring, cabinets, tiles, fixtures and other finishing touches.

"Ed (Klein) and his son, Ed Jr., were great to work with," Fran said. "They were patient, listened to my ideas and had a genuine concern about seeing the project done right. Ed was different, he reminded me of my father, a conscientious businessman, who put customer service first."

The Dolacks have lived in their unincorporated Mundelein area home for 11 years. The home is located in Westshoreland. Initially, they thought about either buying land and building their dream home or buying a larger home.

"We looked around for quite a while but we just couldn't find an area we liked as well as our current home," Fran said. "We had the room to expand on our lot, which is approximately one-half acre, so we decided to create the home ourselves."

Fran's husband, Joe, designed the blueprints himself on his home computer.

"We knew what we wanted in a home," said Fran. "We are very pleased with what we've accomplished."

The Dolack family moved out of their home May 8 and spent the next 118 days in a 30 foot travel trailer as the general contractors went to work changing the face of the home.

"It is scary to see the top level of your home sitting in your drive way," said Fran, who went through a period where she wasn't able to even enter her home. "You just sit and wonder what is happening on the inside."

The home previously contained three bedrooms and one and one-half baths. The remodeled home features: two large bedrooms, a master suite, formal living room, dining room and three and one-half baths.

"We went back 24 feet and out 12 feet in two different directions," said Fran. "We also raised the roof on the second story and expanded it."

All three bedrooms are on the second floor as is the laundry room.

"I always wanted a second-floor laundry room," said Fran. "It is very practical, it keeps the laundry all in one area."

Each of the two children's bedrooms contains their own full bathroom, which they are responsible for keeping clean. Each bedroom also has plenty of room for playing, studying and relaxing, complete with couches and televisions.

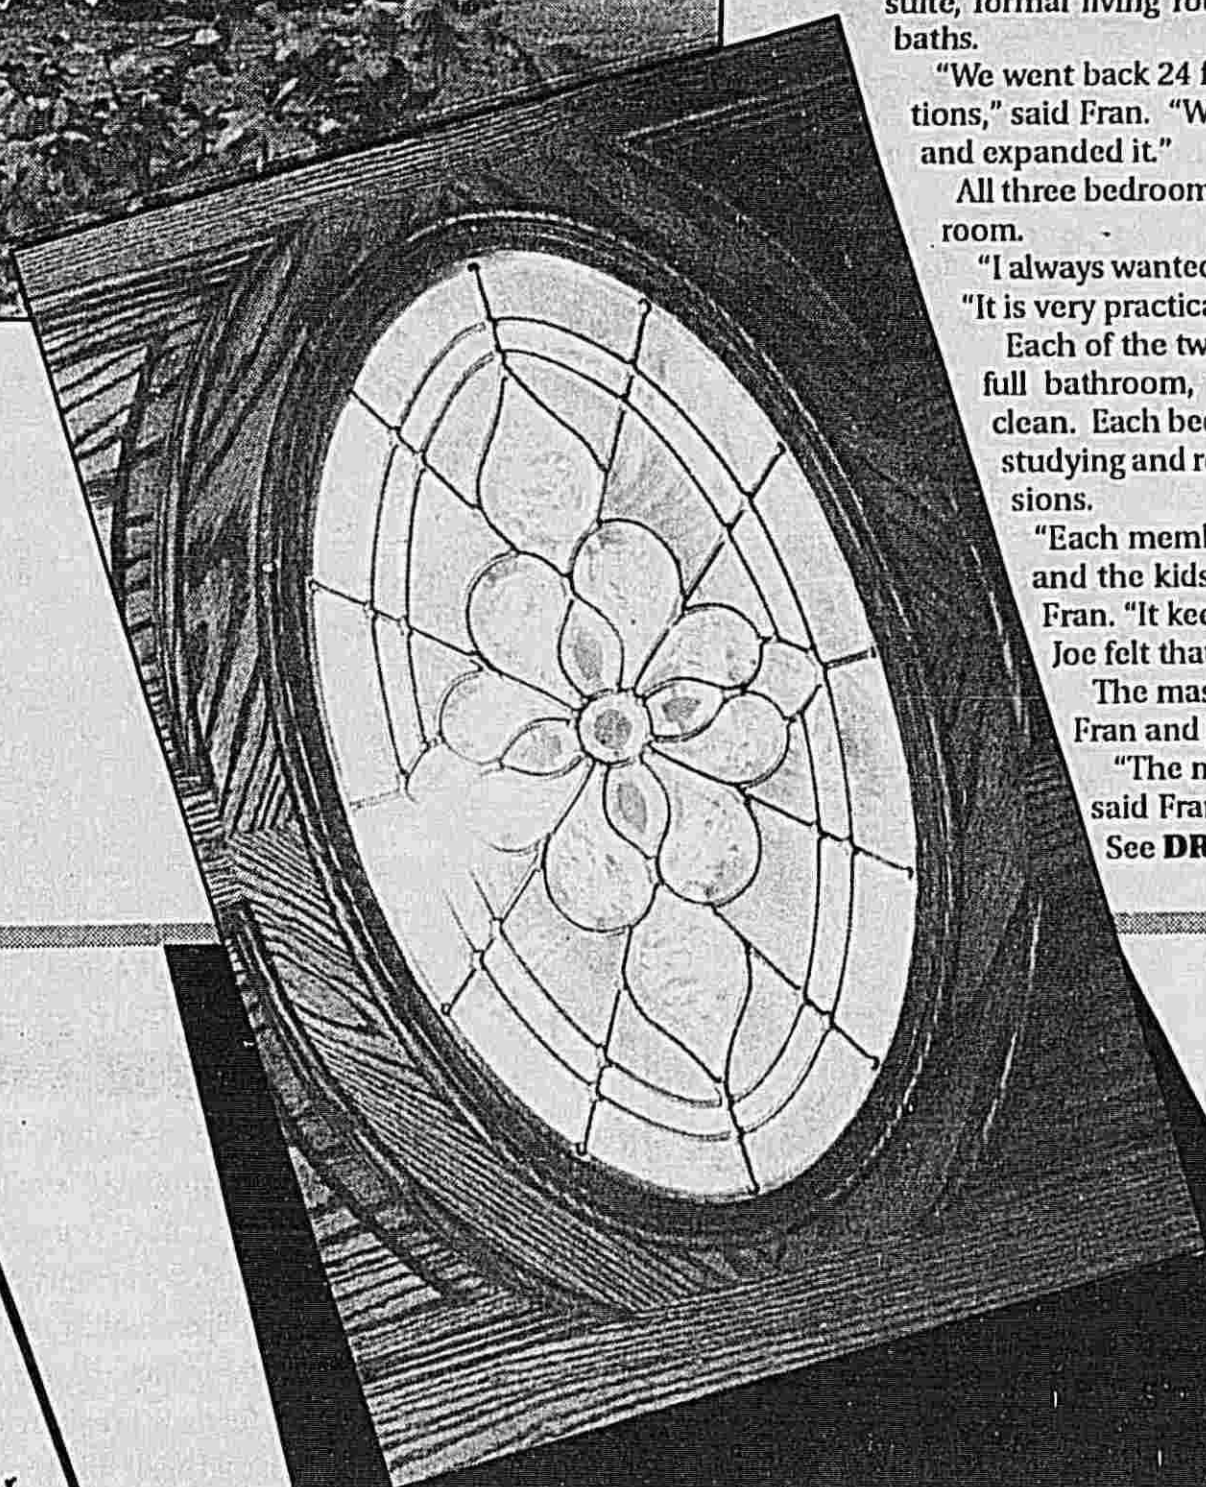

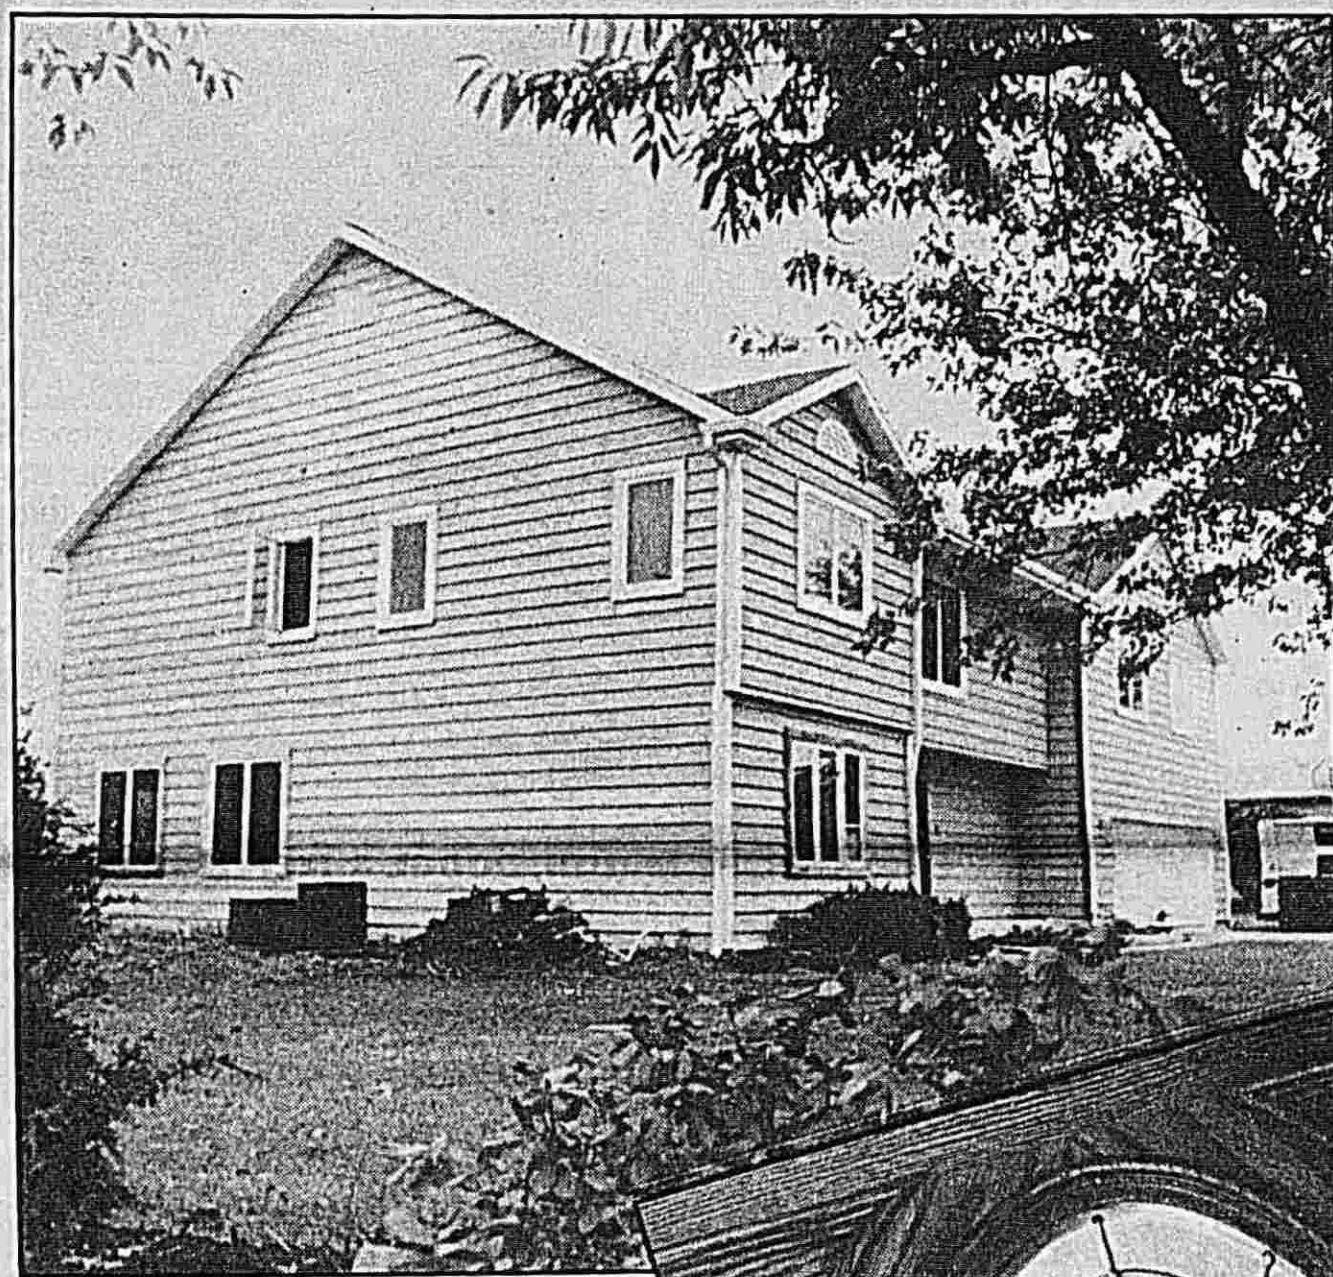

"Each member of the household has their own space, and the kids have a place for all of their things," said Fran. "It keeps the clutter out of the rest of the house, Joe felt that was important."

The master suite is the focal point of the home for Fran and Joe.

"The master bath is probably my favorite room," said Fran. The bath features a whirlpool tub and a separate shower. The color scheme is burgundy, cherry wood and ivory tiles.

"Ed and Ed Jr. were particularly helpful when it came to designing and furnishing the bathroom," said Fran. "They really worked with me to make sure the bathroom was special." The bathroom also has a vanity and two double sinks complete with cabinets surrounding them.

"The vanity was Ed's idea," said Fran. "It really makes a difference in the room."

The master suite also includes a sitting room and will eventually include a deck as well.

Fran is also enjoying the large kitchen and says despite the cabinets being all white, the kitchen is very practical to use and cleans-up easily.

"One thing we did to make the kitchen more practical is to use a stain resistant grout," said Klein. Floor to Ceiling assisted Fran in finding just the right cabinets to match a show-piece china cabinet in her dining room.

"Every detail meant as much to me as it did to them," said Fran.

Klein has owned the Floor to Ceiling Store on South Lake Street in Mundelein for the past ten years.

"Floor to Ceiling offers a great variety of products and is the only franchise to offer such a wide range of products," said Klein. "We are a very family oriented store because we are family owned and operated. Customer service is our top priority."

Joining Klein in the family business are wife, Sue; son, Ed Jr. and brother, Steve Klein.

"I would definitely recommend Floor to Ceiling because of the quality of work and level of service they provide," said Fran. See more photos on next page.

Comfortable kitchens are the heart of the home

The kitchen has long been the center of the home, where we would go to get warm—inside or out. Many have memories of smiling mother's baking, drawing us to the kitchen. Maybe, we remember standing around the stove watching her work her magic. Perhaps for this reason, when entertaining, guests seem to migrate to the kitchen.

To make your kitchen even more inviting, consider placing a loveseat or settee in the kitchen. If space is limited, perhaps just an occasional chair would be appropriate. Before your guests arrive, place a few hors d'oeuvres on the table and you are set to entertain.

Above all else, make your decorating scheme reflect your personality. Are you a gourmet cook? Incorporate those unique utensils and gadgets into the decor—wooden spoons, spice graters, whisks, copper molds, etc. are all great kitchen accessories. Some may even be placed in beautiful, color coordinated ceramic jars. Other items may be hung on the walls for a two fold purpose—decorating the kitchen and also making the items more accessible.

Are you a home gardener? Is canning produce from your garden a hobby? If so, arrange your canning jars on an open shelf. Balance the color of tomatoes, green beans, squash, etc. For a real down home look, intersperse your canning jars with antique kitchen utensils.

Do you cook often? Cover your walls with solid vinyl wallcovering for easy cleaning. Today's vinyls are available in a wide range of colors and styles to fit any decorating scheme. Window treatments range from mini blinds, pleated shades, or verticals for the most functional kind of treatment, to custom-made valances for a decorative "icing on the cake."

After all this preparation, sit back, relax, and enjoy your guests in the warmth of the heart of your home—the kitchen.

Bathroom basics

Is your bathroom boring or miniscule? Don't despair—colors and patterns can give it a lift and fool the eye into seeing a larger space. Remember, it's not the amount of space but what you do with it, that counts. The first step in decorating your bathroom is selecting the theme or the mood you want to portray. Once you've decided, then the creativity begins.

If you want to "open up" your bathroom, select a color scheme that is light—pale colors tend to recede and will visually expand the room. To achieve a sense of the dramatic, you may want to select rich, vibrant colors instead. Deeper colors appear to advance and the room will appear more cozy.

Wallcovering is an excellent choice for a bathroom. If you are hesitant about using wallcovering because of moisture problems in your bath, try fabric-backed solid vinyls. These are resistant to moisture and mildew and may easily be cleaned. In fact, many manufacturers label them as "scrubbable." They are perfect for high traffic areas as well.

Coordinating borders can give your bath a unique look. Try placing them around the tile line, at ceiling height or even on the ceiling! Many borders have a theme, which you can build on with your choice of accessories.

Window treatments for bathrooms generally are required to supply function and beauty—privacy is a must! Pleated shades, verticals, and mini blinds would all fit the ticket.

All are resistant to moisture and can supply complete privacy. There are many fabric treatments to enhance your bath's decor. Everything from a short, shirred curtain to pouf valances, balloons, tab curtains and even "throw" swags. Coordinating fabric may be used for sink skirts and shower curtains to complete the look.

So, what are you waiting for? If your bathroom is ho hum, wake it up with color and fabric—maybe it will help you wake up in the mornings, too!—by MARY LEBEN, Decorating Den Grayslake, Gurnee. For decorating questions call Leben at 662-6612.

Unrelated buyers replace families in homes market

The definition of the "traditional" home is changing, as is the face of America's home buyer.

It has happened before, of course. In the first wave of the Baby Boom, as veterans returned from World War II, the pent-up demand of the new, young families made them a dominant force and, with the help of the GI Bill, turned the home-building industry on its ear.

Today, progress still marches on, but dividing up the demographic pie isn't as easy as it was; our changing lifestyles have created a wide variety of housing situations, and a greater need for variety in design.

"As a country, we have diversified in the way we live," said Gary M. Baxter, president of Glenview, Ill.-based Baxter Homes Corp., developer of Country Lane at Wadsworth Lake on 47 acres near the Waukegan-Wadsworth border in north suburban Lake County.

"We also learned a lot from that first wave of Baby Boomers. Builders today pay attention to the market, to detect new trends, and thus best meet their buyers' needs."

To serve as many of these home buyers as possible, builders must keep their floor plans and selections flexible.

As for the nuclear family, it has indeed been split and is becoming a smaller percentage of the population. According to statistics by American Demographics, we are in the midst of a splintering of home-buyer markets; more singles and single parents are looking for new homes than ever before.

"We're seeing this in growing numbers," said Baxter. "It's a chief reason that customizing, even in affordable move-up homes, is becoming more popular—and why the homes of Country Lane are well-suited to that task."

The American Demographics report opined that while total household growth has gone up by a healthy 13 percent between 1984 and 1994, homes bought by unrelated people living together has risen by 44 percent in the same time period. Single parents are another force to be reckoned with, as they have grown by 31 percent. Other family arrangements, not including the traditional nuclear family, have risen by only 25 percent.

A surprising turn of events in the study, however, shows that single men and women are buying homes as well—up 18 percent in the past 10 years.

Finally, married couples with no children posted a growth in households of 10 percent, while households featuring the nuclear family—married couples with children under 18—grew by only two percent.

The 2,055-square-foot Aberdeen is one of three floor plans in the Country Estates Series at Country Lane at Wadsworth Lake, and one of nine plans in the entire community near the Waukegan-Wadsworth border in north suburban Lake County. The three-bedroom luxury home is priced from $224,900 (subject to change without notice).

Tips on making your home safe for children

Although you may be prepared for upcoming visits by young children, is your home? The Lake County Association of Realtors has a few safety suggestions to prepare your home for a young child's curiosity:

Furniture—Children get hurt by falling on hard surfaces or cutting themselves on sharp edges. You can prevent mishaps by getting corner protectors, which are available at hardware and furniture stores. Remove fragile tables and plant stands that can tumble easily.

Cabinets—Cabinets can be locked with either inside or outside latches. Lock away any dangerous substances such as detergents, bleaches, solvents, other cleaning supplies and insecticides. Keep all medicines and cosmetics out of reach and in the original containers with child-proof caps.

Kitchen—Again, lock up all chemical agents and place knives out of reach. Remember, children can turn on faucets and scald themselves. The American Academy of Pediatrics recommends that parents adjust their water heater so the temperature does not exceed 120 degrees.

It's never too early to move toxic and poisonous substances out of a child's reach. If a child is in the crawling stage, put household products in places other than below the kitchen sink, unless the cabinet is locked. If the child is walking, be sure that bottles and boxes containing medicines or household products are put away before answering the telephone or doorbell. If a child is a climber, find a shelf completely beyond his ability to reach, or better yet, lock these products in a closet or cabinet.

Stairs—Gates can be temporary stair barriers, but some toddlers learn to climb over them. The traditional accordion gates are particularly easy to master. Many gates made of plastic or solid wood frame and strung with polyethylene mesh provide a more effective barrier.

Fireplaces—Use a heavy weight screen to prevent a child from getting too close to a fire. Cover a hearth's sharp edges with a comforter or padded material to protect children from bumps and bruises.

Rugs—Use safety tape or nontoxic sealant to slip-proof rugs to prevent a child from falling.

Closets—Use safety latches on closet doors to prevent a child from becoming trapped inside dark closets.

Electric fixtures—Dangling electric cords can be fascinating playthings. You can reduce temptation by buying cord shorteners at a hardware store. These are strips of plastic around which the excess cord is wrapped. Cords which are thin or frayed should be replaced immediately. Also, you can buy small, flat covers to insert in outlets not being used. This will prevent children from putting fingers or other objects into the outlet. You can discourage youngsters from exploring the mysteries of your VCR with an inexpensive cover lock that allows you to play videotapes, but doesn't allow little fin-

Windows—Use guards on windows that open five inches or more, except fire escapes, to prevent a child from accidentally sliding out an open window.

Install door closures on sliding glass doors to prevent a child from wandering off.

In addition, you may wish to close bathroom doors to keep children from climbing and slipping into the bathtub.

Pick up small objects that could be swallowed and get plants out of reach—some are poisonous.

Never let toddlers play in the garage or basement, especially unattended. There are too many hazards that could lead to serious injury.

Children are inquisitive by nature and are eager to learn how things feel, smell and taste. By following the above tips, you can safely allow children to investigate your home.

Easy checklist for winterizing home heating equipment

Fall is a great time to get your furnace tuned up and have your chimney cleaned. Two critical components in most heating units are the venting and combustion systems. These systems should be kept in good operating order for the safety of home occupants.

It is also recommended that chimneys, flue pipes, through-the-wall vents, and draft hood surfaces be inspected for deposits of soot, signs of corrosion, and cracks. Any damaged part or component should be repaired.

When checking the heating plant's combustion chamber, look for cracks and soot deposits. See if the burner flames show traces of yellow. If you encounter such conditions, any start-up problems, or other difficulties, call a heating contractor.

Here are some suggestions concerning the following gas equipment:

•Furnaces—Permanent air filters should be kept clean, and disposable filters should be replaced when necessary. Also, check the fan belt for tension and signs of wear. If you have a furnace-connected humidifier, be sure it's clean and in good working order.

•Room heaters—Be sure to replace components that are missing or damaged. Broken glass fronts should be replaced.

•Hot water boiler systems—Check radiator air vents. Open vent slightly to bleed any air from the system and use a cup or can to catch any water runoff; then close vent. Also, heating systems will be more efficient if radiator surfaces are kept clean.

To ensure efficient and reliable performance, all gas heating units and vent systems should be professionally cleaned and inspected periodically.

For the do-it-yourselfer, North Shore Gas offers a how-to video, "Tune up, Turn on, and Save." The 15-minute VHS tape is filled with demonstrations on keeping furnaces, boilers, and other gas equipment in good working order. Copies of the tape can be borrowed from most public libraries.

'Magnolia' opens Kirk Players 30th season

The popular play, "Steel Magnolias" by Robert Harling, will be performed by the Kirk Players in the Mundelein High School Theater at 8 p.m. on Oct. 13 and 14. As the opening show of their 30th anniversary season, the Kirk Players are hoping to fill the theater to benefit their sponsors. The JNCL Research Fund and Bright Horizons. In addition to supporting two very fine organizations, the audience will enjoy one of the best-written plays of the last decade. Full of wonderful humor, delightful characters and a touching storyline, "Steel Magnolias" is sure to be a memorable evening!

Truvy and Annelle are the first characters we meet. Annelle (played by Tania Lynn of Grayslake) is young and anxious to get a job in Truvy's beauty shop in the small town of Chinquapin, La. Truvy (Mary Jo Pippinger of Hawthorn Woods) is proud of her shop, which outshines the local competition (the Beauty Box and the Kut and Kurl) because of Truvy's philosophy "There is no such thing as natural beauty." Together, they prepare for an extra-busy Saturday morning; besides the regular customers, it's Shelby's (Wendi Lynn of Grayslake) wedding day.

Before long, the shop is bustling with excited talk about the wedding, Shelby's fiancé, her mom's new job, and the local gossip. Clairee (Phyllis Carter of Gurnee) and Ouiser (Bobbi Houser of Mundelein) join in the colorful discussion while Shelby and her mom, M'Lynn (Paddy Lynn of Mundelein) get their hair done. Their description of the wedding preparations (including the groom's cake which looks like a bleeding armadillo) keeps everyone laughing.

The show has its more serious moments, too, as Shelby shares the disappointment of being unable to adopt children because she's a diabetic, and the thrill of discovering she is pregnant. Everyone in the shop is excited as she shares the news of her pregnancy, but M'Lynn's enthusiasm is tempered as she immediately recognizes the dangers of this high risk pregnancy.

As the rest of the show unfolds, the friendship and love each of these women have for each other comes through loud and clear. As each woman struggles with her own major life events, the continuous sharing and good natured ribbing from her support group in Truvy's shop See PLAYERS page B20

Left, Truvy (Mary Jo Pippinger of Hawthorn Woods) practices her technique on Annelle (Tania Lynn of Grayslake) in a scene from the beauty shop in the Kirk Player's presentation of 'Steel Magnolias.' The show opens the community theatre group's 30th season this weekend.

Fright Fest comes back with thrills

SPENCER SCHEIN
Staff Reporter

What lurks in the night and makes everyone delight can be found at Six Flags Great America this month, as Fright Fest returns for another scream.

This is the fifth year the Gurnee amusement park has held an autumn festival with Halloween overtones, elongating its season throughout the month of October.

The park is open weekends through Oct. 29, and on Friday evenings starting Oct. 13.

Specially trained ghouls, goblins, and ghosts have been trained to perform terrifying acts of mayhem all throughout the park, which has been remodeled for Halloween, said Connie Costello, park spokeswoman.

Hundreds of rubber snakes, bats, skulls, rats and assorted body parts have been meticulously strewn about the park, along with 300 bales of hay, 5 gallons of super-concentrated blood-red dye, 7 tons of pumpkins and 1,700 corn shucks.

Six Flags has also imported 200 monsters, corpses and skeletons for good measure, all to add to a wonderful string of weekend performances, Costello said.

Putting the festival together takes more than one person to accomplish. "Fright Fest is really an endeavor of the entire park," Costello said.

The park also hires 130 actors to portray monsters, trolls, zombies, ghouls, gypsies, creatures and miscellaneous weird people to perform throughout the park and in specially designed Halloween shows.

Among the highlights that make Fright Fest special is the Mausoleum of Terror and Mayhem Manor, Costello said. The houses — not for the faint of heart — are guaranteed to have as many surprises as one can handle, and then some, according to park authorities.

Mayor Slayer presides over Necropolis, the Haunted City of the Dead, which features residents both alive — and dead.

Two new shows added to the mix include "Snakes Alive!" and "You Dirty Rat!" Hundreds of vipers come alive and loose on stage in the Snowshoe Saloon.

Newsom's Amazing Snakes of Houston presents a show sure to educate, and scare, everyone. "When the rattlesnake rattles, so will your insides," according to park information.

The rats strike a different pose, jumping through hoops, climbing ladders and take part in a bowling exhibition, all on command. The intelligent rodents will be joined by trained tarantulas, lizards, squirrels and cockroaches in the creepiest, crawliest critter show imaginable, as presented by Samantha the Rat Lady.

"Love at First Fright," a Fright Fest trademark musical, is back by popular demand, with daily shows in the Grand Music Hall.

Travis Fox, the Prince of Sleep, will showcase the mysteries of hypnosis in a live show.

Zombie Jamboree Parade provides the perfect end to a spooktacular day, featuring a menagerie of ghouls, monsters and characters dancing to an engaging calypso beat. The parade begins each evening one hour before the park closes.

Also back for another go-around is "The Last Buffalo, a spectacular 3-D IMAX movie shown daily in the Pictorium.

A group of storytellers, clowns, pumpkin carvers, stilt-walkers and a petting zoo will provide plenty of entertainment for children.

All Fright Fest rides, entertainment and attractions, with the exception of the Mausoleum of Terror and Mayhem Manor, are included in the price of admission to Six Flags Great America.

Guests are not permitted to wear full costume makeup or facial masks in the park. Parents are encouraged to use their discretion when allowing small children to participate in events that may be too frightful for them.

Six Flags is located on I-94 at Grand Avenue in Gurnee. Fright Fest hours are 5 to 11 p.m. on Fridays, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Saturdays, and 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Sundays.

Tickets for adults ages 11 to 59 are $29.50; children age 4 to 10 are $24.50, and seniors 60-years-of-age and older are $14.75.

Top, Cryptic creatures come to life at Six Flags Great America during the 5th Annual Fright Fest. Below, daring visitors can venture into the Mausoleum of Terror, located inside Necropolis, the Haunted City of the Dead. Fright Fest continues weekends through Oct. 29.

Cookie Crumb Club delights kids

Kathleen Gibson
Cookie Crumb Club

Kathleen Gibson, the delightful performer of Chicagoland's most successful theater show for children, Kathleen's Cookie Crumb Club, will sing songs from her new children's album and meet and greet her fans at Noodle Kidoodle—the new educational superstore for kids—on Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 14 and 15 in Arlington Heights from noon to 1 p.m.

Noodle Kidoodle, a hip and funky concept that's a cross between a large discount toy store and a hands-on children's museum, has just opened in Vernon Hills in River Tree Court.

Kiddleland to spook kids

Families with little ghost and goblins looking for a safe and fun environment to celebrate Halloween may enjoy a visit to Kiddleland for its first ever Happy Haunts Halloween Festival. The festival begins Friday, Oct. 13 and continues every Friday, Saturday and Sunday through Oct. 29.

Cost of admission is $11.25 per person 36 inches tall and over. Children under 36 inches tall are free when accompanied by a paying adult. Kiddleland Amusement Park is located at 8400 W. North Ave., Melrose Park. For more information call 343-8000.

Kids still need culture, too

The Northbrook Park District and the Northbrook Theatre present a lively series of acts especially for children and families. One Saturday each month during the school year they invite families to join them at 2 p.m. for an hour of diverse children's entertainment.

On Oct. 14 Ventriloquist Chuck Field, with his friend Ziggy, will spin tales and spout wisecracks that will have you laughing till you're on the floor. Drawing on his own childhood experiences, Chuck talks to kids on a level they can understand. Special guest appearance by Jenny Field, the 9-year-old amazing mini-ventriloquist.—by RHONDA HETRICK BURKE

Pumpkins at Lambs Farm

Lambs Farm has the "pick of the crop" waiting for Lake County. Through the month of October, Lambs Farm will be selling pumpkins perfect for carving, decorating or making great pumpkin pie.

Small pumpkins are $1 each; large pumpkins are $6, $8 or $10. Lambs Farm also has corn stalks for $3.50 each or two for $6; bundles of Indian corn for $3.50 each; and gourds for 50 cents each or three for $1.25. Other Halloween decorations and toys are available.

Make picking pumpkins an all day outing at Lambs Farm—visit the Country Inn Restaurant, Aunt Mary's Country Store and Grandma's Bakery Nook.

All of Lambs Farm's shops and attractions are open seven days a week from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Admission and parking are free.

Which Caribbean Islands Survived This Year's Hurricanes?

by JIM WARNKEN,
PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

The images on the nightly news might make one think every island in the Caribbean was blown off the map. In fact, the vast majority of the Caribbean were untouched by this year's record storms.

The real damage-producing hurricanes (i.e. Luis & Marilyn) took pretty much the same path, sparing most Caribbean Islands. They did, however, devastate the few they did hit.

Unaffected by the 1994 hurricane season include all of the Bahamas Islands, as well as Jamaica, the Caymans, the "ABC Islands" of Aruba, Bonaire & Curacao, Barbados, Puerto Rico, St. Lucia, Trinidad & Tobago, Grenada, Turks & Caicos and Guyana. The Yucatan area, including Cancun and Cozumel, as well as Belize were pretty much unaffected.

The British Virgin Islands suffered minimal damage. Most resorts never closed or are expected to open this month.

Of the U.S. Virgin Islands, St. Thomas took a hard hit with major damage to many of its hotels and resorts. Even so, the Commissioner of Travel and Tourism expects most to be open for business by December. St. Croix suffered the least damage and is about fully recovered.

St. Maarten (Dutch side)/ St. Martin (French side) was hit rather hard with 25 percent of its homes not livable. About 200 yachts also sank or were blown on shore. However, many hotels are already open with others to open by month's end. Expect this island to be fully recovered by the winter tourist season.

St. Barts is also on the list of hard hit islands with most damage caused by flooding and erosion. Still, with nature rebuilding the beaches, while man works on the hotels, St. Barts is also expected to be ready for tourists late January or February.

Antigua & Barbuda sustained severe damage to both homes and resorts. The Trade Winds and Runaway Beach were completely destroyed. There is also no word on when, or if, Club Antigua, Blue Waters, Half Moon Bay or the Jolly Harbour will reopen. Sandals (Antigua) is scheduled to reopen November 1, the St. James Club on December 1 and Pineapple Beach not until December 16. With the exception of these three resorts, I don't see much hope for a winter vacation the either of these islands.

Your best bet for visiting the Caribbean after a hurricane is by cruise ship. A ship can easily reroute to undamaged islands and bring its fresh food, water and electricity with it.

LIFE'S A BEAR

DONNA ABEAR

Here's to all you newlyweds—just say 'yes'

My good friend Lorrie's daughter got married recently, (congratulations, Leah and Dan) which got me to thinking that:

1. My oldest son is of legal age to marry and father children, therefore

2. I could theoretically become a grandmother should this occur in the near future.

These thoughts immediately caused me to join the fitness center at work, so that in case I become either a mother-in-law or grandmother or both, people might be able to say, with a fairly straight face, that I don't look old enough to be one. The "fitness people" estimate this will take at least two years of intensive training. Not bad—it took me 41 years and four children to get into my current sorry shape.

After I recovered from my age crisis (although true recovery would involve a time machine and/or a good surgeon), I began reminiscing about what it was like to be a newlywed. The more I thought about it, the more I realized that being a newlywed could be compared to the high that a drug addict experiences, only instead of just a few hours, it lasts for anywhere from one month to several years. (Right now, there's a drug addict out there somewhere saying, "Several years?!? Man, I gotta get me some of that! Say—what's your sister's number?")

I know that's a strange comparison, but that's why I'm writing this column and you're not. Anyway, let me explain my theory.

First, there's the abnormal appearance of the eyes. When ever a new wife mentions her spouse's name (usually followed by the words, "my husband", and then a loud sigh), her eyes become glazed over and she seems to fall into a momentary trance. I believe this condition is called "goo goo eyes".

Second, normal speech is impaired. Newlyweds can be counted on to lapse into baby talk and pet names whenever they see each other, like "Ooh, babycakes, your snuggum bunny man is SO happy to see you." "Not as happy as your babycakes is to see YOU, snuggum bunny man, mmmmm, kiss, kiss..." Do not attempt to speak to newlyweds during moments such as these—they cannot hear you. Not that you'll WANT to speak to them at those times—their conversation usually causes listeners nearby to be seized by a severe gagging reflex.

Third, their perception of reality is distorted. For instance, newlyweds actually believe that "we don't need money—we have each other and our love." Uh, huh. Unfortunately, their landlord does not share this belief.

They talk about when they'll have children, usually "a whole houseful of them, maybe eight or nine. Won't that be fun?" We parents, of course, know the answer to that question—"Sure. And so are root canals!"—but the newlyweds are not capable of rational thinking. They are convinced that "our children will be perfect." Just humor them.

They also believe that everything they do is "cute": His snoring is "cute"; her dainty little nylons hanging in the shower are "cute"; those beard hairs he leaves in the sink are "cute"; and her ability to burn even TV dinners is "cute."

In later years of marriage, the word "cute" is used in an entirely different way, such as "That's a good one dear—I missed our anniversary because it's leap year"—Cute. Real cute."

I think you can understand now why I say that newlywedism and drug addiction have a lot in common. The only difference is that you can't buy the euphoria you experience as a newlywed.

And the funny thing about it is, you never really know how wonderful it feels until it's gone. When that happens, you can either chuck it all and start over with a new partner, or you can do what most of us happily married couples do:

Good Food

Entree salads are one-dish meals

CLAUDIA M. LENART

Regional Editor

A crisp, cool salad of farm-fresh greens and bright harvest vegetables glistening with a light coating of flavorful dressing is always a tonic. And adding thin slices or cubes of meat, poultry or fish to the equation not only turns a salad into a dazzling entree, it creates a satisfying lunch or dinner that doesn't heat up the kitchen or take hours to prepare.

Increasingly popular to add intense flavor are flavored oils such as Crisco Savory Seasonings made primarily with a canola oil blend. From Crisco is the following recipe.

Steak and Potato Salad

- 1 1/2 pounds boneless sirloin steak
- 2 pounds small red potatoes, scrubbed
- 8 ounces fresh green beans
- 8 ounces white mushrooms
- 1 medium red bell pepper, cut into small thin strips
- 1 medium sweet onion, thinly sliced
- 1 cup cherry tomatoes, halved
- 1/4 cup chopped parsley

Roasted Garlic Marinade/Dressing

- 3/4 cup Crisco Savory Seasonings Roasted Garlic Flavor
- 1/4 cup red wine vinegar
- 1 tablespoon Dijon-style mustard
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon sugar

For dressing, whisk together all marinade dressing ingredients until well blended.

Place steak in plastic bag with resealable top and pour in 1/3 of the marinade dressing. Allow to remain at room temperature for 30 minutes, then chill until ready to cook.

Place potatoes in large pot, cover with cold water and bring to boil. Cook for about 20 minutes or until fork-tender. Drain, cool and cut into quarters. Toss with half of the remaining marinade dressing.

Steam green beans for approximately 7 minutes or until crisp-tender. Refresh in ice water and drain. Rinse, dry and thinly slice mushrooms. Toss with 2 tablespoons of marinade/dressing to coat.

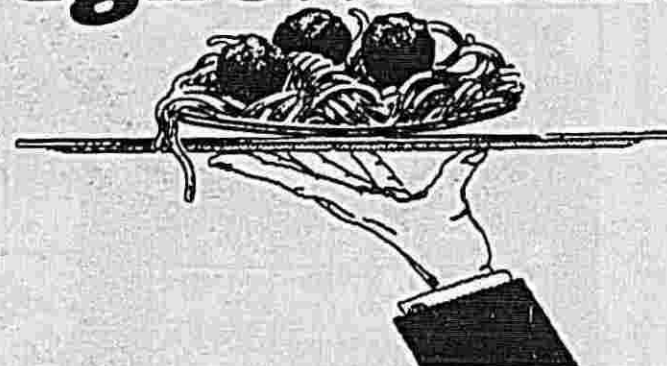

Remove steak from marinade and discard marinade in bag. Grill over preheated grill or under preheated broiler to medium doneness. Allow to rest 5 minutes. Cut across grain into thin strips.

Toss together steak, potatoes, beans, mushrooms, bell pepper and onion. Garnish with tomato halves and parsley.

'Devil' has Denzel in under achievement race

Anyone who is a cultist, or just plain lover of the nostalgia of the 1940s private eyes, eulogized both in print and on black and white film, will like "Devil in a Blue Dress," despite any shortcomings.

This is the first of the "Easy Rawlins" series which has Rawlins, played by Denzel Washington, going into the sleuth biz only after being a WW II hero and losing his mechanic's job in an airplane factory.

Because he's just a freshman P. I., Washington, who does his detecting in order to pay the rent for his family, is not operating out of the genre's seedy office, assisted by the gum-chewing, fingernail-polishing, ditzy blond.

Washington is hired to find the femme fatal, Daphne Monet, played by a sexy Jennifer Beals.

After an enjoyable introduction to the world of the P. I. romance with Lisa Nicole Carson, Washington meets Beals, who plays the title role via several blue outfits.

Although all the sleazy Sam Spadish ingredients are present, the film just never breathes the fire and brimstone that could set this flick ablaze like the "Maltese Falcon."

Washington himself, who always turns in good performances, seems to be unable to get to the jist of his character.

Stealing the entire corruption, racist, slime-filled film is Don Cheadle from "Picket Fences," who does a stupendous job of upstaging in the part of Washington's pal, Mouse. If he doesn't draw a few out-loud guffaws there is an absent sense of humor.

Somehow we felt a smooth but only surface job was being foisted onto us by the director and even Denzel. So we are rating "Devil" 3.5 out of five stars because though "Devil" is a good detective story, it could have been so much better.—by GLO-RIA DAVIS

Satisfy your appetite at Luigi's of Hong Kong

Luigi's of Hong Kong, located at 235 Rand Rd. in Lake Zurich, can satisfy your appetite whether you have a taste for Chinese food, Italian food—or both!

Luigi's of Hong Kong, known for "The Best of Both Worlds," offers a variety of delicious Chinese and Italian entrees such as Fried Rice, Egg Foo Young, Chop Suey, Chow Mein, Kung Pao Chicken, Beef Kow, Mu Shu Beef, Chicken and Pork, and Dragon and Phoenix; not to mention Italian entrees such as Chicken Cacciatore, Fried Ravioli, Veal Parmigian, Angel-Hair Linguini, Tortellini, Cheese Ravioli, and Fettucini with numerous sauces. Desserts include cannoli, peppermint ice cream, lemon Italian ice, and homemade tiramisu.

Visit Luigi's lounge to take advantage of the refreshing tropical drinks, after dinner cordials, and wines. The cozy lounge is perfect for relaxing either before or after dining, and even after work.

Luigi's of Hong Kong offers its guests many specials. Weekday dinner specials are known as combination dinners: for $10.95 diners get entree choices that include both Chinese and Italian dishes. Weekend specials include Imperior Steak (Hong Kong style), which is sliced T-bone steak served with Chinese vegetables; Cioppino for One, Raging Rigatoni, a spicy hot pasta with arrabiata (fire sauce). The rigatoni also comes with a glass of red wine.

Luigi's of Hong Kong seats 150, and all food is fresh and "made to order," boasts Manager Bill Torres. Visit Luigi's Senior Sunday Buffet, which provides hungry patrons a choice of 16 entrees of Chinese and Italian cuisine. The all-you-can-eat buffet is a superb bargain at only $6.95 for adults, $3.95 for children 10 and under, especially since it comes with coffee or tea, choice of ice cream, and a fortune cookie. The buffet lunch is available Sunday from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Recently, Torres has increased the selection of dishes for the Daily Luncheon Buffet, which is available Tuesday through Friday from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Luigi's is also available for private and corporate parties of up to 50 people and provides off premises catering (for up to 100 people) as well. Consider having your birthday, anniversary, baby shower, or any special event at Luigi's of Hong Kong. Contact William (Bill) Torres for further information at 540-1300. Luigi's of Hong Kong is open Tuesday through Friday from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Saturday 4 to 10 p.m.; and Sunday 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Closed Mondays. Carry-out orders are available. Reservations are strongly recommended for Fridays and Saturdays by calling 540-1300.

Longhorn Steak House is better than ever with family style dining

"We are a very energetic, positive combination," said Paul Gasior of Longhorn Steak House. "We feel the economic times and the growth in the area are all very positive; our restaurant and banquet facility reflect this. We're very cost and quality conscious and give people what they're looking for in these times."

Steakhouses were first developed out in the country in the form of the Supper Club, said Gasior, and the Longhorn offers that concept. Chef Ron Skow serves hand selected cuts of beef trimmed lean for health-conscious diners. The fresh seafood menu was expanded to include yellow fin tuna, swordfish, fresh salmon and grouper. Also included is a wide variety of pastas and an extended lite fare and burger menu! Large portions and a full salad bar reflect the "back to basics" philosophy.

Gasior served as vice-president of the McHenry County Restaurant Association in 1995 and will serve as president in 1996. Business has tripled under the direction of the Gaskow Dining partnership and has received the Gold Plate Award of the county.

Longhorn's menu is very family friendly, with its wide selection of items, the full children's menu, and the casual atmosphere overlooking beautiful Lily Lake. Longhorn's Lakemoor banquet hall is one-half mile east of the restaurant and seats 850. Both facilities are scheduled for the addition of outdoor seating.

A new addition to their "family friendly format" is Sunday Family Style Dining. Large platters of food is passed at your table in the same fashion that Grandma served in her home years ago! Best of all, it's all you can eat. Imagine having a buffet brought to your table without getting up!

Enhancing the "supper club" image is the music in the lounge on Friday and Saturday nights. Listen to all the goodies from the '30s, '40s and '50s through the newest soft contemporary music. Your favorite show tunes are highlighted in the lounge.

The Longhorn is open for lunch Monday through Friday from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., with dinner served Monday through Saturday from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday dinner is from 1 to 8 p.m. Visit the Longhorn on Route 120 (construction is done, so we're easy to get to!), two and one-half miles west of Route 12 on Lily Lake, just 10 minutes west of Grayslake.

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Don't walk, run to that door when opportunity knocks. It will be a friend calling with an unusual suggestion which will lead to career gains. This weekend, a heart-to-heart chat is advised with a loved one.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Early in the week, you find that sticking close to home is more rewarding than gadding about with friends. Be on the alert for some interesting information to help you with a financial decision.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) The accent this week is on the family, particularly where your budget is concerned. Some have to deal with an irresponsible child who has been spending money foolishly. Be sure to set the right example.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) It's a great time early in the week to get out and about with the kids. Enjoy some special time traveling and enjoying leisure events. Singles looking for romance get their wish over the weekend when they meet that special someone.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Pay attention to that wonderful advice being offered by a very well-meaning friend. While you think you know best, that's not always the case. Someone else can offer a fresh perspective. Couples enjoy romance this weekend.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) You need to rely on your own common sense concerning a problem which arises at work early in the week. As the week goes by, you turn your attention to a pressing financial problem. Look for ways to improve your income.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Someone excites you now with a proposition that could mean an end to your financial worries. However, be aware of all the details involved in order to make a balanced decision. Relax at home this weekend.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Early in the week, you just don't seem to have the energy to get much done. This soon clears up and you can end your work week on a productive note. The accent this weekend is on parties and socializing.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) You need to pay more attention to your significant other now. This person is feeling somewhat neglected and needs your reassurance. A friend comes to you with a problem that requires only your special touch to solve.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You've got something left undone from a while ago which should be tended to now in order to avoid further snafus. Something which has been bugging you about a friend finally clicks into place. Avoid a confrontation.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Your time is taken up this week with travel, hobbies and cultural pursuits. You benefit from a visit to a museum or taking a seminar. This weekend, you are at your self-confident, charismatic best.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Avoid getting into a silly squabble with a family member who is simply being testy for the sake of doing so. Delays are possible in the middle of the week, especially where work is concerned. However, this soon becomes clear sailing.

March of Dimes says think before pregnancy

Most women do not understand the importance of seeing their doctor before pregnancy and the few simple steps they can take to help their future babies be born healthy. These were the findings of a national public opinion survey commissioned by the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation that explored women's knowledge and behavior relative to seeing a doctor before pregnancy.

For this reason, during October—Campaign for Healthier Babies Month—the March of Dimes will focus on educating people about the importance of pre-pregnancy care and raising funds to support research grants and community programs that impact on maternal and infant health nationally as well as in Chicago and suburbs.

As part of its continuing theme of "Think Ahead," the March of Dimes is unveiling new public service announcements in October and providing free brochures and posters for the public.

"Every woman and couple who are thinking of having children want to fulfill their dream with the birth of a healthy baby," said Deborah Gordon, March of Dimes Greater Chicago chairperson. "In October, we hope future parents will become more aware of the steps they should take prior to conception," she said.

The March of Dimes, as the known leader in improving the health of babies, provides the following recommendations for women preparing for a healthy pregnancy:

- Review family and personal medical history with your doctor;
- See your health care provider for a pre-pregnancy physical exam;

- Be sure your immunizations are up to date;
- Eat a balanced diet;
- Take a multiple vitamin with .4 milligrams of folic acid every day.

Also: Attain your ideal weight; exercise; give up alcohol, tobacco and illegal drugs; include your partner in adopting a healthy lifestyle; and be sure you are not exposed to work or environmental hazards that may affect conception.

The March of Dimes will present a series of fund-raising events in October to support its efforts for healthier babies.

For more information about these events or the campaign's free Think Ahead materials, call the March of Dimes at (312) 435-4007.

Diagnosing adult attention deficit disorder

Carole worried that her seven year old son, Brian, was having problems in school. His teacher informed her that he cannot sit still, talks excessively, constantly loses his books, and often forgets his homework. She also reported that he blurts out comments in class which tend to elicit mocking from his peers. The teacher said he was distracted and rambunctious.

After seeking professional help for her son, he was diagnosed with Attention Deficit Disorder (ADD). Carole, noticing similarities between her son's and her own behaviors, wondered if she might also have ADD. As Carole contemplated this possibility, she began to realize the presence of several of the indicators or symptoms of Adult ADD. Her work history was at best "checked." Plagued by feelings of insecurity, she always felt different from her co-workers.

Carole described her work difficulties, stating, "I get so bored and irritated with people and work. It just seems like I have all this energy that I can't control. I just go off on tangents."

She added that while she has good intentions about following through with ideas, she often gives up because she cannot even get herself organized enough to get started. Because she cannot produce what she promises, others find Carole to be undependable.

"Even my husband says he can't rely on me and that I only think of myself," Carole said.

Carole tries to do her best but finds herself often driven by her impulses, rather than guided by her decisions. Clearly, Carole, like her son, is suffering from Attention Deficit Disorder.

ADD is an inherited neurological syndrome characterized by impulsive behavior, distractibility, excess energy and low tolerance for boredom. People with ADD have difficulty getting organized, being goal directed, and following through with projects. Consequently, they feel like failures. They often exhibit mood swings changing from an angry temper to excited glee in minutes.

People with ADD are drawn to stimulating environments. They are prone to addictive behaviors such as drinking alcohol to an abusive extent, gambling, and working compulsively. On the positive side, often they are creative, enthusiastic and bright.

Estimates are that about 15 million Americans have ADD. ADD is typically thought of as a disorder of childhood, that kids eventually outgrow. However, most children with this diagnosis continue to exhibit traits throughout adulthood.

To determine if you have ADD, it is important to review your background with a professional. This usually involves giving a detailed history of your family background, medical status and school functioning.

Helping care for the caregiver

A seminar will be offered to those family/friends who care for Alzheimer's and/or related dementia patients at home. The event will be held Saturday, Oct. 21, from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at Americana Healthcare Center, 1500 S. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville.

The seminar was developed to assist family members handle day to day challenges facing the Alzheimer's Care Givers. Speakers include Sharon Paloucek, pharmacist, Vitalink Pharmacy; Rob Lang of Lang Home Medical Equipment; Gary Kirshenbaum of Caring Concepts; Jim Bruns of Harris Bank Barrington and a representative of the Greater Chicagoland Alzheimer's Associations.

The agenda will include trust, medical equipment, clothing, progression of the disease and Alzheimer's Association programs.

A luncheon will be served and the seminar is free of charge as a community service.

For reservations, call Robin Falster at 816-3200.

A medical professional will be able to rule out other conditions that resemble ADD like seizures or anxiety disorder by doing a comprehensive interview.

What about treatment for adults? After an accurate diagnosis is made, learn as much as possible about the condition.

Useful books include "Driven to Distraction" by Drs. Edward Hallowell and John Ratey or "Attention Deficit Disorders in Adults," and "Practical Help for Sufferers and Their Spouses," by Dr. Lynn Weiss. Two organizations which provide resources and support are Attention Deficit Disorder Association (ADDA) and Children and Adults with Attention Deficit Disorder (CADD).

Treatment may include medication. The stimulant Ritalin is frequently prescribed, which paradoxically has a calming effect on those suffering from ADD. Ritalin works to improve productivity and concentration. Discuss medication options with your psychiatrist.

Several nonpharmacological strategies are useful to try if you have ADD:

1. Structure as much of your environment as possible. Think of how grade school operated. Tasks, goals, and deadlines were set to follow. Grades and praise were used as feedback. A stimulating, interactive world which rewards appropriate behavior is most helpful for those

Condell Acute Care Center offers free community lecture series

The Condell Acute Care Center in Buffalo Grove has announced that its free fall lecture series will begin Oct. 16 when Kit Semkus, aerobics instructor from Condell's Centre Club presents "The Benefits of Exercising While Aging" at 9 a.m. Semkus has been conducting the Senior Fitness Program offered weekly at the Buffalo Grove facility.

The programs will be held throughout October and November at the center located at 150 Half Day Rd. Reservations are recommended for all lectures and can be made by calling 215-0000. After the senior exercise presentation, all programs will begin at 7 p.m. with the exception of the senior exercise presentation.

To introduce expectant and new mothers to the benefits of exercise, Martha Courmoyer, ACE certified instructor from Centre Club, will hold a Pre-/Post-Natal Exercise Session Wednesday, Oct. 18.

Physicians, all members of the Condell Medical Staff and based in the Condell Medical Center in Buffalo Grove, will present the remaining lectures. Robert Blumenthal, DMD, Dentistry, will present "Cosmetic Dentistry" Oct. 19. Joel C. Okner, MD, Cardiology, will discuss "Cholesterol and Heart Disease" Oct. 26.

November's lectures begin with Pediatrician Jane Kapral, MD, taking a look at "Attention Deficit Disorder" on Wednesday, Nov. 1.

"Asthma: It Will Take Your Breath Away" will feature Irina Harag, MD, Family Practice, on Thursday, Nov. 2, and Richard Allen, MD, Obstetrics/Gynecology, will present a helpful look at "Planning for Pregnancy" Nov. 16. Frank Minardi, DO, Surgery/Orthopedic, will review and discuss "Total Joint Replacements - Hips, and Knees" on Nov. 20.

In addition to the lectures, a Teddy Bear Clinic will be conducted from 7 to 8 p.m., Nov. 8, by Kim Mann, RN, of the Buffalo Grove Acute Care Center.

Arthritis education course linked with pain reduction

Taking an educational course about arthritis has been associated with a 19 percent reduction in arthritis pain, reports the Arthritis Foundation, Greater Chicago Chapter. In addition, the pain reduction and other benefits are evident up to as much as four years after a person with arthritis takes the course, even though a person's disability from arthritis may continue to increase.

According to the Arthritis Foundation, the findings were based on a four-year follow-up of 233 participants who had taken the Arthritis Self-Help Course. The courses teach people with arthritis about their disease, medications, coping strategies, exercise and joint protection. It was the first such long-range study conducted to determine the potential benefits of arthritis education on health and health-service use.

"The results show that even after four years, and without further course work, people attending the Arthritis Self-Help Courses experience a 19 percent reduction in pain," said Hope Kellermann, Self-Help Course leader for the Greater Chicago Chapter. "Physician visits were reduced by 1.65 visits per year, depression was reduced slightly, a person's overall ability to cope with the consequences of arthritis increased 15 percent, and disability from arthritis increased at a slightly lesser rate than in people who did not take a self-management course," Kellermann continued.

"These findings suggest that an arthritis self-help course has long lasting benefits for the people taking it and that an educational component should be considered as a basic part of an overall treatment program," said Halsted Holman, M.D., professor of medicine at Stanford University Arthritis Center and one of the researchers involved with the study.

The Arthritis Self-Help Course will be offered at Rugen Community Center, 901 Shermer Rd., Glenview from 7 to 9:30 p.m. on six consecutive Tuesdays beginning Oct. 10. For registration and fee information, call the Arthritis Foundation, Greater Chicago Chapter at 1-800-735-0096.

The Arthritis Foundation is the source of help and hope for nearly 40 million people with arthritis. The Foundation supports research to find the cures and preventions of arthritis diseases, and seeks to improve the quality of life for those affected by arthritis.

Alzheimer's sufferers urged to join new support group

The Lake County Health Department is looking for people with early stage Alzheimer's Disease interested in forming a support group. The group, to be coordinated in conjunction with the Chicago Area Chapter of the Alzheimer's Association, is designed to provide an opportunity for persons with early symptoms of Alzheimer's, who are aware of their memory loss and are concerned about their illness, to meet with others who are experiencing similar problems.

The support group will meet weekly for approximately one and one-half hours each session, during which participants will be able to exchange information, share feelings, and gain support in an informal group discussion setting. Sessions will be held on Thursdays from 9:30 to 11 a.m., at the Lake County Health Department, 3012 Grand Avenue, Waukegan. The group will meet through Dec. 14.

There is no charge to participate in the support group, however, registration and pre-screening are required. Those interested in the early stage Alzheimer's Support Group should call the Institutional Health and Safety Program of the Lake County Health Department at 360-6733 or the Chicago Area Chapter of the Alzheimer's Association at 933-1000.

Great Beginnings

Lake Forest Hospital provides caring and expertise through a variety of educational programs in support of their Great Beginnings maternity services. Childbirth in the '90s, FH's comprehensive childbirth preparation program for expectant parents, is held in a series of four-week classes. Offerings are available on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings. Classes 1 and 2 meet from 7 to 9 p.m. and Classes 3 and 4 meet from 7 to 9:30 p.m. In support of expectant couples busy schedules, a special "weekender" class is also held on Saturdays and Sundays from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

A Lamaze Refresher course meets for two-week classes on Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. Vaginal Birth after Cesarean (VBAC) and Cesarean Review meet on Wednesday evenings from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m.

with ADD. Computers are particularly good "coaches" because they provide instant reinforcement.

2. Learn to identify your feelings and manage them. If you cannot tolerate a mood, take a time out.

3. Get support and encouragement from friends and family or join a group. It's important to surround yourself with people who understand what it is like to have ADD. Remember, ADD stems from a malfunctioning in the brain, not from being weak-willed or lazy. So there is no need to be ashamed.

4. Having ADD affects one's family, job, relationships, and identity. It is important to try to educate those around you by becoming an advocate for increased understanding of those with ADD.

Health department schedules flu, pneumonia vaccine sites

The influenza (flu) season is approaching. Influenza vaccinations will be available to senior citizens, ages 65 or older, from the Lake County Health Dept. Immunization Program at sites throughout the county during October and November.

The health department will also be offering the pneumonia vaccine this year to those at high risk for pneumococcal disease, which include persons at least 65 years of age or adults with chronic type illnesses. This vaccine is given once and is repeated under certain circumstances. It is very important to remind seniors to bring their Medicare Part B cards which will cover both pneumonia and flu vaccines. For those not on Medicare, there will be a $9 fee for the flu vaccine, and a $20 fee for the pneumonia vaccine, based on ability to pay.

The health department offers the following important information about this coming flu season:

Adults and children who required regular medical follow-up or underwent hospitalization during the preceding year because of chronic cardiovascular, pulmonary, renal or metabolic diseases (including diabetes mellitus), anemia, or immuno-suppression, and otherwise healthy individuals 65 years of age or older are at increased risk for complications from the flu.

In addition, flu shots should be seriously considered for children and teenagers (6 months through 18 years of age) who are receiving long-term aspirin therapy, since they may be at risk of developing Reye's Syndrome, a serious childhood disease that can follow influenza. These individuals should talk to their private physicians about getting flu shots.

Senior citizens are recognized as a special risk group for flu and its complications, as illness can be very debilitating and hospitalization for flu and its potentially deadly complication, pneumonia, are common.

Having had influenza in the past may not prevent people from getting the disease again. The 1995 vaccine will offer protection against three influenza strains:

A/Texas, A/Johannesburg, B/Beijing. At each of the health department's senior flu clinics, nurses will interview and screen individuals requesting shots. Under certain circumstances the shot may be postponed or a referral made to a physician for consultation. Those individuals include the following:

- Persons with a history of allergy to eggs or egg products.
- Anyone who has ever had Guillain Barre Syndrome.
- Individuals with a fever or an active infection.

If you have any questions, call 360-3114.

The schedule for the 1995 Flu Immunization Clinics is:

Friday, Oct. 13, 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at Warren Township Offices, Citizens Building, 17801 W. Washington St., Gurnee.

Wednesday, Oct. 18, 1 to 3 p.m. at Antioch Senior Center, 817 Holbeck Dr., Antioch.

Tuesday, Oct. 24, 1 to 3 p.m. at Mundelein Senior Center, 1200 Regent, Mundelein.

Wednesday, Oct. 25, 1 to 2:30 p.m. at Round Lake Senior Center, 814 Hart Road, Round Lake.

Thursday, Oct. 26, 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. at Vernon Township Offices, 23306 N. Main St., Prairie View.

Friday, Oct. 27, 1 to 2 p.m. at Barrington Park District, 235 Lions Drive, Barrington.

Wednesday, Nov. 1, 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at Libertyville Civic Center, 135 W. Church Street, Libertyville.

Friday, Nov. 3, 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. at Lake Zurich Senior Center, 95 E. Main Street, Lake Zurich.

Wasting money

I want to talk about state waste. The DCFS office was evicted from their Lake Villa office this week to make room for a daycare being planned. In looking for a new site, the state central management in Springfield chose an empty former drug store building in the Eagle strip mall on Rollins Rd. in Round Lake. The landlord is Arthur Rubloff, a Chicago-based realtor with political connections. Besides the rental, the state will be paying approximately $200,000 to construct office space. At the same time, a local landlord had space as well as an office already available and set up to accommodate the DCFS office for a lesser rental amount. The state chose to ignore this cost-saver and went with the Rollins location. However, this location will not be available for another two months. Consequently, the office will move to a temporary office in Gurnee. More expense! The taxpayers are footing the bill for all of this when the state could have saved money. What's going on here?

Abear okay

I'm reading Lipservice in the Sept. 22 issue about Donna Abear. I have to say that this person is totally wrong. All we read are bad, awful things going on in the paper. I think it's nice to have a little relief with some comedy. Donna, I applaud you!

Stating the facts

I have a response to 'Majority loses' in the Sept. 22 issue. This is to the so-called 91 percent of residents in Chesapeake Farms who don't want the bike path behind their house. Please let me kindly state the facts. Approximately 835 homes are currently built in Chesapeake Farms (you can confirm this with the sales office). The land behind the houses is park district owned. The bike path was planned way before these houses were sold and built. The mayor helped residents by negotiating a better layout for the path, to help them deal with it. So, 90 percent, I dare you to tell me who doesn't want the bike path? And prove to me you didn't know there was going to be a bike path there before you bought.

Most wanted

I'm looking for someone to help me with an incident I had on Sept. 18. I was a victim of vandalism where my 1980 Mercury Cougar was broken into. A significant amount of damage was done. They busted out the rear window, which was quite expensive. The entire console of the inside has to be replaced, but the strangest part is they didn't take anything. They just did a lot of damage. My insurance company will not cover this because I didn't have collision and comprehensive. If anyone saw anything from night to morning on Sept. 18th, please call the Lake Villa police department and let them know what you know so we can catch the person that did this.

Let's solve problem

I'm from Grayslake and I'm tired of hearing about the timing of the two school referendums. If people wanted them to pass on separate elections, why didn't they vote for the Warren High School last April? Woodland Middle School announced they were running their referendum this fall before the April vote. What did you think? That the high school problem would go away? Of course the high school would try again in November if April failed. What are they going to do with the students? Quit complaining about the timing and let's solve both problems now. They won't go away.

Misinformed

In reference to Mr. Schroeder's viewpoint in the Editorial column of the Sept. 22 issue concerning deer hunting and archery, you were misinformed about the ban on hunting within village limits with a bow and arrow. According to the Dept. of Conservation, which is now the Dept. of Natural Resources, bow hunting is allowed and it supersedes any ordinances concerning hunting within the limits of a village. The 100-yard limit is for projectiles or guns. You can hunt with a bow and arrow in village limits. Police Chief Gary Kupsak is also misinformed in the village of Vernon Hills.

Apology owed

I wonder if the Lake Villa Record gets their news stories from another paper? Both papers have done a disservice to Patricia Bork and her husband Harold (Lucky) Bork. Trish died in a fatal fire and both papers reported that she was living with a male friend. This friend is her husband of seven years, Lucky Bork. The fire destroyed their home. Both papers owe this family an apology.

Not the only one

I'm calling about the message titled 'Open mail'. The Island Lake post office has delivered mail that has been opened, packages have been missing. It's bad, very bad. I just wanted to let you know you're not the only one.

Bronx cheer to you

I was reading Lipservice and wanted to comment to the person who wrote on free speech abuse. I give you the Bronx cheer. People aren't going to go to their Congressmen or those in authority and tell them what they think. The only way they're going to get it off their chests is with something like this. I really enjoy reading Lipservice. Thanks for providing it!

Cheers to Spartans

The Round Lake High School homecoming parade was okay, but it being a homecoming parade, why did all the high school cheerleaders ride in a truck? It was their day and the Round Lake Park District Spartan cheerleaders did all the cheering. If it wasn't for them, the event wouldn't have had any spirit. Our fire trucks, rescue squad, paramedic units, and so forth deserve special credit also.

Vote 'em out

Thank goodness Vera Smith, good friend of the Hults, is a watchdog for this entire community and single-handedly was able to get the new candidates thrown off the ballot for not numbering their pages and other ridiculous items. Too bad you can't keep a better handle on what the school board's doing instead of tearing up our kids and neighborhoods again. Maybe we'd better get the new candidates in and get rid of the idiots there now.

Get up to date

Shame on the Fox Lake Building Supervisor! After repeated complaints, he has not attempted to confront my landlord on numerous code violations. I have lived in the building for seven years and have seen decay and destruction occur. See LIPSERVICE page B31

The security doors don't lock and there is a consensus of residents that our landlord doesn't feel our $550 rent is good enough reason to even fix the building up to code. Too bad the surf we live in doesn't wash the dirt off our walls.

You're the dork

I am calling in regard to the caller of "Abe's a bore." I am a senior citizen and no prude. I have three children, seven grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren. The way I see it, this person has no children or has their head buried in the sand. These children at that age think they know more than their parents and therefore the parents are "dorks." As far as saying "pee-pee," most kids also say this. If she has kids, they were probably afraid to say anything like this for fear of being punished. The column wasn't meant to be informative, but humorous. I would say that she is the dork and whoever hired Donna saw her talent.

World is for man

This is a reply to "Going, going, gone," whose lack of common sense and good upbringing refers to Republicans as scum. This was in regard to opening up the far north-east section of Alaska for oil drilling. Fair minded people listen to both sides of an issue. Natural resources are important to our country, as it means jobs, economic growth, and lower fuel prices, to cite just a few reasons for this exploration. Good management is important. Yes, all companies should put to risk capital for this venture, and should be made to "clean up" after a drilling operation is completed. That is good land management. Let us not forget that this world was created by God for man. Genesis 1:26 makes it clear that man has dominion over fish, birds, and every creeping thing. As man is the ruler of nature, not the servant of nature.

Where to turn?

Washington Elementary in Mundelein has a very big problem. I know a fourth grader there that can't read except for a few simple words. Last year this child missed a lot of school days because the child overslept. The problem is continuing again this year. I've talked to the parent and she just doesn't care. Is there anyone I can turn to to have this problem fixed so this unfortunate child can have a decent education? Please return your comments to Lipservice.

Accidents happen

This message is to a white man traveling on Lake Shore Drive in Round Lake Beach on Sept. 24. I want to let you know that you hit my son and sent him home scared and bleeding. You damaged his bike, but most importantly, scared him to death. Next time, have the decency to at least bring him home and explain what happened. Accidents do happen, but if this was not an accident, I hope someday you don't have someone do this to your child.

Cops are looking

For the jerk who stole the front grill off my 1980 Oldsmobile on Park Road in Round Lake, I'm looking for you and so are the cops. If I were you, I'd return it the same way you took it. Didn't your mother teach you better?

Bee solution

To "Get rid of bees," if you want to get rid of bees, take a jar with a small opening and fill it with a cup and a half of juice, not orange juice. Koolaid is all right. Then take some dish soap and work some inside the walls of the bottle all the way around. Then, set it outside and the bees will come. You can catch up to 50 bees a day. I haven't had any bees on my deck since June. I got this from a campground in Wisconsin. Please pass it on. It works.

Waste of money

I'd like Mayor Eschenbach from Wauconda to answer why village residents are paying wear and tear, upkeep, and gas mileage on two village cars being driven by the Chief of Police and an investigator to go to their homes in McHenry and Richmond. It seems like an ungodly cost. I'm sure they'll say it's because they respond to emergencies from their homes. They could just as easily go to the police station and pick up the cars, which would save taxpayers money. The other thing is, the insurance coverage. If they hit someone when they're out of the village, it costs the village residents money.

Congrats to Donna

Congratulations to Donna Abe! I love her column and it's probably the only reason why I still get the Antioch News-Reporter.

Keep the name

I'm calling to comment on the Big Hollow School's name being changed. I went to the school and loved it and had a great teacher. I think the name Big Hollow is something people will remember, and it should stay the same.

Nosy

In response to "so sorry," I have a problem with people talking in a foreign language, too. I don't know what they're saying. But that's just me being nosy. People don't need to be as nosy as I am and should not have permission to speak their own language.

Video job search program puts jobs in the bank

NEAL TUCKER
Staff Reporter

At 50 years old, Jim Keilwitz found himself in the same position as many other white collar employees in this era of corporate down-sizing. After 27 years with electronic giants Sylvania and Sperry, Keilwitz was out of a job.

He did have a great deal of video equipment he collected over the years along with the knowledge of how to use it. Matching his search for work together with his ability to produce commercials, he decided to create a video personnel search company called Chicago Employment Opportunities.

"I just woke up at 3 a.m. one morning and said I'm going to do it," Keilwitz said.

What he did was create 13 one-hour employment shows he says were in the same style as info-tainment products like the Today Show. Along with features of prospective employees, he interviewed various experts in the field of employment including people from the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) and those familiar with the American Disabilities with Act (ADA).

The shows were skewed toward particular segments of the employment market.

"If a company is looking for a warehouse manager, they don't want to be watching a show on nurses," Keilwitz said.

'Of the 92 or 93 people we had on the show, everyone of them was hired.'

—Jim Keilwitz

The slickly produced shows were broadcast on WJYS Tinley Park Channel 62 on UHF. Eighty percent of the people looking for jobs on the shows were 50 and older. The results spoke for themselves.

"Of the 92 or 93 people we had on the show, everyone of them was hired," Keilwitz said proudly.

Regardless of the success he experienced with the shows, Keilwitz admitted to making a few mistakes. He stopped doing shows at 13 because he ran out of retirement money. After he spent $200,000, he realized more money should go to advertising and marketing. The last $50,000 he spent that end did help.

He has 20 corporations lined up, waiting for him to go back on the air, but is still looking for more. He believes his time for a renewal run will come soon. With proper backing and the undisputed results, he has a chance to possibly start a new trend in employment searching.

In the mean time, he continues to shoot commercial and corporate films for training or marketing. He understands it will take some time to get back to the level of success he initially experienced, but it is worth the wait.

Keilwitz, a Lake Bluff resident, can be reached at 295-9640.

Lake Zurich firm near top owned by women

NEAL TUCKER
Staff Reporter

What does Horning Wire have in common with the familiar name of Turtle Wax, Inc. when the two companies manufacture completely different products? Horning Wire is in the Chicago area. It is a multi-million dollar company and it is owned by a woman.

Horning Wire, in Lake Zurich since 1967, was honored by Crain's Chicago Business earlier this year as one of the top women-owned firms in the Chicago area, slotting in at number 18 with $16.9 million in gross revenues in 1994. It was also acknowledged by the National Association for Women Business Owners (NAWBO).

After starting the firm with her then husband, Carole Horning took over full ownership and operation in 1985. The company has continued to prosper under her guidance, despite some difficult times at first.

"When I first got involved, it was a bit frustrating. It was a challenge to develop relationships," Horning said.

Eventually, her contacts in the male-dominated industry realized she was very capable and the product itself had not changed. Her experience in taking over the day to day operations was also helped by the fact that she had always been at least 50 percent owner in the company as well as a member of the board of directors. She feels the experience of winning over her clients has made her a better businesswoman.

"Most women do have to put out more effort and try to find an equal balance so the don't come out as a whiner or a witch," Horning said.

The primary wire product Horning manufactures is copper magnetic wire along with electrical cords for appliances. The magnetic wire is found in any kind of electric motor made. With the combination, probably everyone has something they own featuring wire made in Lake Zurich.

Horning Wire sends product to top names such as Westinghouse, General Electric, Schumacher, Magnitech, Micron Computers and Molon Motors. The company employs 100 people and operates out of an 89,000 square-foot building on Buesching Rd.

The business has expanded once since the Hornings built the first 60,000 square feet 28 years ago. Horning actually got into the wire business because her father, who was in the electronics field, saw a niche in the industry.

"At the time we got into the industry, there was a shortage of magnet wire with a only a few big corporations manufacturing it," Horning said.

It appears Horning made the right choice. With 22 acres of land, a good labor pool and an established client base that is growing, Horning Wire is primed to continue to grow in the future. And because Carole Horning is doing a job she says she completely enjoys, she'll be right there to help it along.

Kille inducted into RE/MAX Hall of Fame

Mary Kille, a real estate agent with RE/MAX Suburban in Libertyville, was inducted into the International RE/MAX Hall of Fame which recognizes her as being in the top 1 percent of all RE/MAX agents.

Kille, a resident of Grayslake, earned her way to the Hall of Fame based on her sales production, professionalism and dedication. Her honor was bestowed at the RE/MAX International Convention held in Dallas. The RE/MAX 100 percent Club also claims Kille a member for being in the top 1 percent of all Realtors in the United States. "I am pleased to have received such an honor," said Kille, who is a 29-year Lake County resident. "The RE/MAX system has helped me tremendously in my profession."

Kille, who has been with RE/MAX Suburban since 1987, began her real estate career in 1979. For 1993 and 1994, Kille has produced approximately $8 million in sales each year. Not resting on her laurels, Kille has completed training in Buyer's Agency Brokerage, which has enhanced her services to clients during 1995.

Looking toward the future of marketing homes, Kille has already promoted her clients' properties on the World Wide Web. Her listings are available to view on the Internet, through Northern Illinois Homes on the Net, and Compu-Serve.

Mary Kille

Abbey Ames Attic receives award

Abbey Ames Attic in Libertyville, received a Silver Crystal Award for outstanding community service by a gift and decorative accessories retailer in 1994.

The award, established in 1951, was one of 11 presented to winners of an annual merchandising and design competition sponsored by "Gifts and Decorative Accessories" magazine, the international trade magazine serving the gift and decorative accessories field.

The magazine's annual awards dinner, held in the Baroque Room of the Plaza Hotel, was attended by award winners, distinguished guests from the gift industry, show management and mart executives, and members of industry associations.

Judging of the competition was done by the Editorial Board of "Gifts and Decorative Accessories." The awards, consisting of Gold Crystal First Awards and Silver Crystal Merit Awards recognize most outstanding and outstanding achievement in store design, advertising, promotion, display, and community service by gift and decorative accessories retailers.

Fall Foliage

Fall is perfect time of year to install landscapes

There's still plenty of time to install landscapes this year. As a matter of fact, many trees, ornamentals, and shrubbery are best moved this time of year. The transplant shock is less on many plants as they are beginning to defoliate and store excess food for the winter months ahead. Our soils are still quite warm and therefore newly transplanted material will root quicker into the surrounding soil. Mulching new plant material will help keep the soils warmer for a longer period of time, and help to keep moisture in the soil, which in turn helps the plant accumulate to the surrounding soils faster than it might in the spring, when soils are generally cooler.

Water is extremely important this time of the season, as plants must have adequate moisture before the winter arrives, to ensure their survivability over the winter. With the dry fall season we've had, watering of conifers in one's garden should be a priority. Plants prefer a low, deep watering method and should be done once every 10 days for established plantings and once every seven days for new plants in one's garden.

Remember, plants need one-inch of water a week for proper development. To extend color in one's garden for year round interest plant evergreens and mix them with trees like autumn purple, white ash, green mountain, sugar maples, palmetto ash. Don't forget the oaks, as certain varieties like the white oak and red oak add pleasant reds and browns to one's gardens.

Mums add vibrant colors to one's garden this time of year, and if properly mulched before the winter arrives, can survive year after year. Mix blue spruce with green spruce and white pine with Austrian pine for texture and color in one's garden.

Be sure to consult with a professional on site locations for these plants as certain conifers need to be protected from windy areas, or need full sun as opposed to shade. A little planning will go a long way, and remember fall is the time for planting.—by MIKE GRECO, landscape architect and owner of Mill Creek Nursery, Inc.

Time is right to winterize plants

While the weather is warm one day and cool the next, you can rest assure your plants are weathering the season right along with you, by following these helpful suggestions for winterizing your plants.

First, provide mulch for your plants, whether they're in containers outside or in the ground. Mulching plants helps keep the soil warmer when the temperatures drop, and it also makes it easier for the soil to retain moisture. Check out the many types of mulch available at garden centers, or make your own from hardwood bark, pine bark, composted leaves or pine needles.

Second, surround young or tender plants with burlap, old sheets, old blankets, or dark-colored plastic. Provide your plants with their own shelter by placing three or four stakes around the plant and attaching one of these coverings.

Give your vegetation the added boost it needs to make it through the season, and enjoy the frosty air without worrying about the health of your plants.

Landscaping greenery for all seasons a plenty at Cedar Hill

Homeowners who like to use healthy plants grown on site, then to have someone design their landscaping and carry it through to the finish need to look no further than Cedar Hill Nursery.

Cedar Hill features a variety of seasonal items throughout the year. They are known for their large Halloween display and pumpkins as well as the annual Christmas tree sales.

The nursery grows many of its own landscaping materials on an 8-acre plot at 21854 West Rte 22. Dennis Wooten, who operates the business with his mother, Charlene Wooten, uses a computer aided drawing program to design a landscape tailored to the homeowner's wishes. If the owner wishes, the nursery will then install the landscape to the exact specifications. This includes installing brick patios or sidewalks.

In addition to the nursery, which operates during the growing months, the garden center's buildings are expansive, altogether covering 2 acres. This gives the customer plenty of room to look for the right gardening accessories. Customers can find the nursery, which has been in business for 10 years, at the corner of Quentin Rd. and Rte. 22.

Hours of operation during the fall are 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday. Spring hours usually run through 7 p.m.

Plants add value to communities

Economic Value

- Landscaping can add between seven and 14 percent to a home's value.

- Landscaping can have a recovery value of 100 to 200 percent at selling time.

- A mature tree can often have an appraised value of between $1,000 and $10,000.

- Landscaping increases property values, which add to the community's tax base.

- Landscaping can speed the sale of homes by five to six weeks.

Environmental Value

- Trees can reduce temperatures as much as nine degrees Fahrenheit.

- Each tree removes 26 pounds of carbon dioxide from the air each year and releases about 13 pounds of oxygen—enough each day for a family of four.

- An acre of trees can remove 13 tons of dust and potentially harmful gases from the environment each year.

- Plants control runoff, slowing erosion and allowing water to be absorbed by the soil and returned to aquifers.

'Golf Course' technology pioneering safe, non-toxic landscapes

Blo-Green, Inc. is creating exclusive "Golf Course Quality" landscapes in Lake Forest, Glenview and Libertyville safely and non-toxicly. Using its proprietary "high impact" package and tree, shrub and lawn technology, Blo-Green horticulturists and scientists, with seemingly unparalleled sophistication, are applying "soil test based" custom-blended nutrients, plant and microbial extracts, humus humates and many other natural ingredients and making some of the greenest, most healthy "greens quality" landscapes on the northshore.

Developer of the new leading soil/plant science, Karl D. Johnston, DBA, Quantum Energy Dynamics (QED), is presently making tours to leading country clubs around the country solving previously unsolvable golf course and greens problems.

The "high impact" package addresses tree, shrub, and lawn problems (e.g. diseases, insects, lawn brownout, etc.) arising from mid-summer stress. Trees and shrubs shift gears during this time from their growing cycle to their building up of buds for next year's growth cycle. This shifting of gears, along with the summer heat, creates stress within trees and ornamentals.

Blo-Green is currently giving public presentations to leading local organizations and also free soil reports and analysis for residents or commercial landscapes with tree, shrub or lawn problems.

Anyone wishing for Blo-Green to speak before your association or give for a free soil report and analysis, call 1(800)476-2696.

Fireproof homes with practical techniques

"Fire-scaping," or designing landscapes to minimize losses due to fire, is an increasingly important fire safety and prevention tool. As more people crowd into rural, densely vegetated areas, placing a strain on the firefighting system, homeowners and landscape professionals alike need to use the basic principles of fire-scaping.

Studies show that devastating fires sweep across and destroy large areas of land, homes and communities each year. In virtually every part of the country, it's only wise to take steps like those listed below to fire-scape your home, especially if you live in a rural area.

1. Wildfire spreads uphill rapidly. If you're purchasing land for a new home, select as flat a site as possible. If you do choose to build on a hilly site, locate the driveway on the downhill or windward side of your home, so it can act as a barrier to fire.

2. Clearly mark the entrance to your home and driveway, avoiding narrow or winding roads that can obstruct and delay fire trucks and other emergency equipment.

3. Design the yard as a firebreak, building vegetation-free walls at least two feet high. Select the least flammable plants available, such as hardwood trees over conifers, as hardwoods do not burn as quickly.

4. Create a safety zone by encircling your house only with vegetation less susceptible to fire. Look for foundation plantings that are slow to burn, and keep fire safety in mind with all of your plant selections, regardless of where they are placed. Evergreen trees and other conifers are among the more flammable selections, but you can still include these popular mainstays in a safety-conscious landscape by planting them at least 20 feet from your house and from each other.

5. Remove limbs within 15 to 20 feet of the ground or the roof of your home. If your home has a chimney, you should also get rid of any branches that fall within 14 feet of the chimney. Remove all vines from your house, fence, wall or other structure, and use only small amounts of bedding mulch or straw.

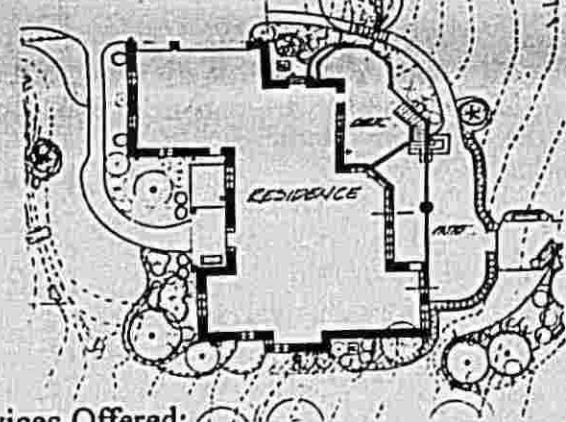

LANDSCAPE DESIGN

Before you contact a landscape contractor, have us check out your site, so you can bid it out for a better dollar value. Look professional at a reasonable price.

We don't sell plants, but select the right plants for your site and conditions, and ones which will enhance your property.

Our designs range from small residential to large commercial properties.

Whether planning for the future or installing this season, you can obtain a scale drawing that incorporates your landscape needs. Your plan can be designed for a 1 to 5 year installation.

Griefnotes

How can I prevent difficulties from grief?

Many who confront grief for the first time are surprised at the intensity of their feelings. Grief is most often associated with the death of a loved one but it can also result from divorce, loss of bodily function, moving or from a child growing up and leaving home. Because grief is poorly understood, those who have not experienced it personally can be poor helpers. By learning about grief ahead of time we can more capably assist friends in their time of need and can more readily understand the intensity of feelings when death affects our families. Take time to read and inquire about grief and learn ways to assist those in need of support.

PUBLIC NOTICE AMENDED NOTICE OF SALE OF COLLATERAL UNDER THE UNIFORM COMMERCIAL CODE

Under Section 9-504 of the Illinois Uniform Commercial Code and pursuant to the terms and provisions contained in a certain Collateral Assignment of Interest in Land Trust dated August 30, 1991 and executed by Mitchell B. Simon and Paula Simon in favor of the assignee of First State Bank & Trust Company of Park Ridge (the "Bank") the Bank will sell at public sale on October 20, 1995 at 2:00 p.m. in the offices of Schwartz, Cooper, Greenberger & Krauss, 180 North LaSalle Street, Suite 2700, Chicago, Illinois, in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth below the following described property: 100% of the beneficial interest in and under a certain Trust Agreement with First State Bank and Trust Company of Park Ridge ("First State") as Trustee, dated July 26, 1991 and known as Trust No. 2265. The beneficial interest has been assigned to secure indebtedness equal to approximately $530,423.30. The Bank shall have the right to bid in its indebtedness at the sale.

First State, as trustee under said Trust No. 2265 is the legal owner of certain real property located at 968 Stonegate, Highland Park, Illinois.

The terms of the sale will be as follows. All bids must be orally given at the time of sale or submitted in writing at least twenty-four (24) hours in advance of the aforementioned date and time. The sale is conducted with reserve and the Bank shall not be obligated to accept any bid if it deems the highest bid inadequate. The Bank shall have the right to adjourn the sale before, during or after the commencement of bidding. Upon completion of bids and acceptance of a bid, the successful bidder will be required to pay the balance of the bid price by cash, or cashier's or certified check drawn on a bank located in Illinois. The successful bidder will, upon payment of the bid price, receive from Bank a quit claim, assignment of beneficial interest in and under First State, Trust No. 2265, and a bill of sale selling and assigning the bank's interest in said beneficial interest. No representations or warranties of any kind are or will be given by the Bank as to the ownership of any real estate by First State, as Trustee aforesaid, the state of title to any such real estate or the value of the beneficial interest in and under said Trust or as to the condition of such real estate.

Persons interested in bidding should direct all inquiries or written bids to Martin I. Behn, Esq., Schwartz, Cooper, Greenberger & Krauss.

Fall Diddley

The Mental Health Resource League for McHenry County is sponsoring its Tenth Annual Fall Diddley Craft Show Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 14 and 15 at the McHenry County Fairgrounds, Rte. 47 and Country Club Road in Woodstock. Show hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday.

Fall Diddley shoppers will find over 350 booths displaying an outstanding variety of hand-crafted goods, including folk art and woodcarving, dried florals and pottery, painted clothing and fabric appliqué, jewelry and fine art.

The League, together with Skinner's Amusements, will provide food concessions and bake sales, carnival rides, painted faces and pumpkins. Decorations from the fair—cornstalks, pumpkins and mums—will be sold on Sunday afternoon.

Admission is $3 for adults, $1 for children 5 to 12 and no charge for youngsters under 5. Parking at the fairgrounds is free, and free parking with shuttle service is available from Marlan Central High school, located one mile east of Rte. 47 on Rte. 120.

The all-volunteer League strives to maintain a high quality of excellence in its juried shows—Fair Diddley in Scarecrow Mary Ellen Howard, MHRL membership chairperson from Woodstock, welcomed fairgoers to Fall Diddley last year at the McHenry County Fairgrounds.

May and Fall Diddley in October. All proceeds benefit McHenry County agencies concerned with mental health services. For membership or crafter information, write to MHRL, P.O. Box 204, McHenry, IL 60050; or call (815)385-5745.

Pet Parade

Choosing a family pet can be a great responsibility

Beginning at the birth of your pet, preferably speaking of the canine family, your puppy, can bring joy or despair. It's your choice.

Where should you obtain your family pet? A reputable breeder or the animal shelter? Well, both actually. If you have the time, money, patience with a brand new puppy and you have a particular breed in mind, then by all means choose a breeder. If you are looking for a not so young dog and breed preference is iffy, then choose a shelter.

1. Choose a breeder from a breeders directory. Forget about Mr. and Mrs. Joe that have purebred puppies for sale twice a year and have been doing so for several years at their home.

2. Get a list of past buyers from the breeder dating back 10 years and call them. Find out how their dog is doing, has it had any medical problems and is it still alive.

3. Make sure that the parents of the puppies and the grandparents have passed obedience trials and if they hold titles in Schutzhund, agility, canine good citizen, or field. Remember your looking for a well developed and intelligent pet that has good temperament as well as looks.

4. Find out how the breeders handle the dogs. Are they outside or inside dogs. Are they caged or able to socialize with others.

5. Last but not least. What guarantee comes with the dog. If your pet develops hip or elbow dysplasia what can or will the breeder do for you. (There should have been a certificate from the OFA stating that the bone structure of the parents were fine) or perhaps there is no guarantee. How about cataracts or luxation (dislocated lens), deafness, cancer.

This may seem like a lot of information to swallow at first, but this is an addition to your family, and you want to love this dog and care of it as much as you love and care for the other members of your family. This can be a great responsibility or a great burden. The choice is yours.—by KIMBERLEIGH GORHAM, Leash License

How To Survive The Job Search
By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: Please tell me what to make of this. I have been a secretary for a prominent law firm for just over ten years. I have been a dedicated, devoted, loyal employee. I have never been involved in office politics, and believe me that in itself can be a soap opera. I have always been a team oriented individual with a pitch-in attitude. So what is the problem? My problem is that after ten full years of service, I got my "walking papers". The company handed me an envelope at the end of Friday business with a note attached telling me that my services were no longer needed and enclosed was a severance check for two weeks pay. Imagine how mortified I was when I got home that evening only to open my paycheck and find this. There are several things in the office that belong to me, as I have accumulated some personal things in my work station over the past years. I have absolutely not a clue as to what happened. I have not heard from anyone in the company in the 2-1/2 weeks that I have been gone now. What do you suggest I do? E.H. - Waukegan.

A: Dear E.H. I am just as confused as you are. First of all, if the reason was not apparent as to your termination...Why didn't you bother to ask? I cannot imagine that signs were forthcoming with maybe the exception of a lay-off. Poor attendance, failure to comply with corporate rules or regulations...Excessive tardiness...some thing or some reason. But the fact remains that here you sit...never having made the attempt to find out why. If for nothing else, after ten years of service I can not buy that a company would not fill you in as to the cause of termination, but more importantly, your lack of not trying to pursue the reasons is a problem in itself. For all you know, there were lay-offs across the board and here you are taking this personally. At very least, make arrangements to pick up your personal belongings at a time that you arrange with your former superior. At that time, you will hopefully have the opportunity to find out just what this was all about.

Q: I am currently without employment and a telephone too! My next door neighbor has been kind enough to offer his telephone number to add to my resume and he will take messages. Could this hinder my getting a job if word gets out that I don't have a telephone? M.D. - Libertyville.

A: Dear M.D. Only if you don't get your messages!
Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 4949 Grand Ave., Gurnee, IL 60031.

PET OF THE WEEK

Red Alert For Cat Lovers

A seasonal tragedy of immense proportions has once again come to call at Orphans of the Storm. Lost, stray, abandoned ADULT cats in huge numbers have arrived at the shelter, seriously compromising the shelter's ability to house, feed and care for them in our cherished no-kill tradition. Indoor only, loving homes are urgently needed NOW, for some of the sweetest, neediest, loneliest and most attractive cats you've ever seen. If you have room enough and love enough to give one or two of our feline residents the home they need and deserve, PLEASE ACT NOW. When you adopt a pet, you save a life! Celebrate summer by saving a life, that will in turn add countless joy to your own. Long hairs, short hairs, solids, tabbies, patches, calicoes, rambunctious teenagers, playful young adults and content lap cats in the prime of their lives wait in our Cat Cottage for someone to love. Cats can't talk, but we see the hope in their eyes every day. Your adoption can make their dream come true. Cash $40 adoption fee includes free spay/neuter, collar, tag, first shots, follow-up care and much more. Orphans of the Storm is located at 2200 Riverwoods Rd., Deerfield. Hours are 11 a.m. - 5 p.m., seven days a week. Call (708) 945-0235 for further information.

WILLOW 2

Ownership of a duplex can provide many benefits for those interested in acquiring an income property. Some may choose to reside in one unit, while renting the other. Another option is to rent both accommodations and manage the holding. Either way, it is a solid investment.

In any case, one of the more modern and innovative duplex plans to hit the market in quite a while, is the Willow 2. This two-story design has a 1170 square foot configuration on side one, with three second level bedrooms.

Both units have an attached garage that conveniently opens directly into the kitchen. This allows you, regardless of the weather, to unload groceries with a minimum of bother. There is space, in each garage to put a washer and dryer.

The master suite in unit one is a rarity in duplex design. Extending out from the right side of the building, with a view window to the front, the amenities here include a large sleeping area, walk-in closet and private entrance to the bathroom.

Both units have a spacious living room that flows unimpeded into the dining area. This creates a roominess that belies the square footage. The kitchen dimensions vary somewhat, but both allow easy serving and feature built-in appliances. Each dining room has a sliding glass door to the back patio. There is enough room here to relax in the sun with a barbecue and some lounge chairs.

The top level in unit one holds two bedrooms, each with closet space. The front bedroom is somewhat larger. They share a corner bathroom fitted with linen storage. The upper floor in unit two begins with the same two bedrooms and a bath as unit one. The difference here is a third bedroom continuing to the left of the design. This good-sized room can easily be converted for use as a den, hobby room or home office.

For a study kit of the WILLOW 2 (404-50), send $10.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number). For a collection of plan books featuring our most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark.

PROJECT RACE CAR 1938

CLC earns Skyway golf title; two advance to nationals

CLC's Brad Daley and Jason Scarborough qualified for national tournament in Greensboro, North Carolina in June, 1996. CLC finished in second place at the regional tournament, losing by four strokes to champion Blackhawk College.

"Their chances at national are pretty good. I think the whole team could have qualified, because all are capable of shooting par or sub-par scores," CLC Coach Tom Lee said.

Daley, a first-year golfer, is a Waukegan High graduate and fired a 77 in Rockford at Alden Golf Course. Scarborough, a sophomore and Stevenson High grad, fired a 79. Daley made first team all region, Scarborough made second team all region.

"He really turned it on. His putting game has improved," Lee said of Daley's effort.

"Jason's long woods is his strong point. He hits the ball long and gets himself in a good position, closer to the green," Lee said.

Vince Crovetti of Highland Park; Tony Schultz, a Warren High grad and Ted Makela a Warren High grad, shot 80s. All three were named third team all region.

CLC was coming off a Skyway Conference championship in which three players made the all-conference team. CLC edged Oakton 309-311 for the title.

Schultz was the leader as he fired a 75 and won runner-up MVP honors. Scarborough had a 76 and was second runner-up MVP. Corvetti had an 82 and was fourth runner-up MVP.

Daley had a 76 and Makela and Tony Strobl rounded out the scores with 82.

Lee, a second-year coach, was named coach of the year in the Skyway.

CLC netters win regional IV title

College of Lake County's women's tennis team as expected received a test from College of DuPage. The Lancers were up to the test and claimed the Region IV title by one point.

The Lancers had 30.5 points to College of DuPage (COD)'s 29.5.

"It was a great tournament. It was a two-team race and the girls came through. It was a great effort," CLC Coach Dick Watson said.

Julia Sapozhnikova won the title at No. 1 singles with a 6-0, 6-1 win over Illinois Valley. Jane Buckman won at No. 2 singles with a 6-3, 6-0 win over COD.

Nicole Kirkman gained third at No. 3 singles and Lisa Lopez won the title at No. 4 with a 6-1, 6-0 over COD. Becki Ziolek rounded out the singles titles with a 6-4, 6-4 win over COD. Jamie Johnson was second at sixth singles.

The Chapparrals dominated the doubles. Sapozhnikova and Buckman gained the only CLC crown, at No. 1, with a 6-1, 6-0 win over COD.

CLC kickers gain wins

College of Lake County's soccer teams won in non-conference and Skyway Conference matches.

The Lancers men's team improved to 8-3-2 overall, 6-1 Skyway with a 3-0-1 win over Wauabonsee.

In a 4-1 win over Harper, Joe Earl had a goal; Andy Kennett had a goal and an assist; Kafi Lartey had one goal as did Shane Krupinski. Chris Swanson and Chris Wallin each had assists.

CLC earned a 3-1 win over Skyway foe Wauabonsee.

Larety, a Warren High grad, had a goal as did Jeff Haulg and Ismael Rosa. Joe Earl had an assist.

Shean Hawkins was in goal.

The women's team earned a 9-0 shutout of Lincoln College.

JJ Ross of Mundelein led the attack with four goals while Sarah Maltzer had two and one each by Sheri Kwiatkowski, Jamie Ross, Sara Stoutenberg and Colene Hardy.

"More important than the goals, most followed excellent assists and hard follow-up," CLC Coach Mike O'Flaherty said.

CLC, 3-3, hosts Moraine Valley in a Skyway test Oct. 6.

The men are at Moraine Valley Oct. 10.

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

A contingent of young karate martial artists from Lake County will be representing Team USA to compete in the Mediterranean Games in Greece later this month.

Nine karate competitors from Lake County will depart for Greece Oct. 16 with a team of 90 from across the country. All train under master John Townsley at USA-Karate now located in Mundelein.

"The rank of USA-Karate is 100 percent authentic, which means our rank is accepted in 154 countries," noted Townsley, comparing the distinction of USA-Karate with other karate studios that claim to represent the United States.

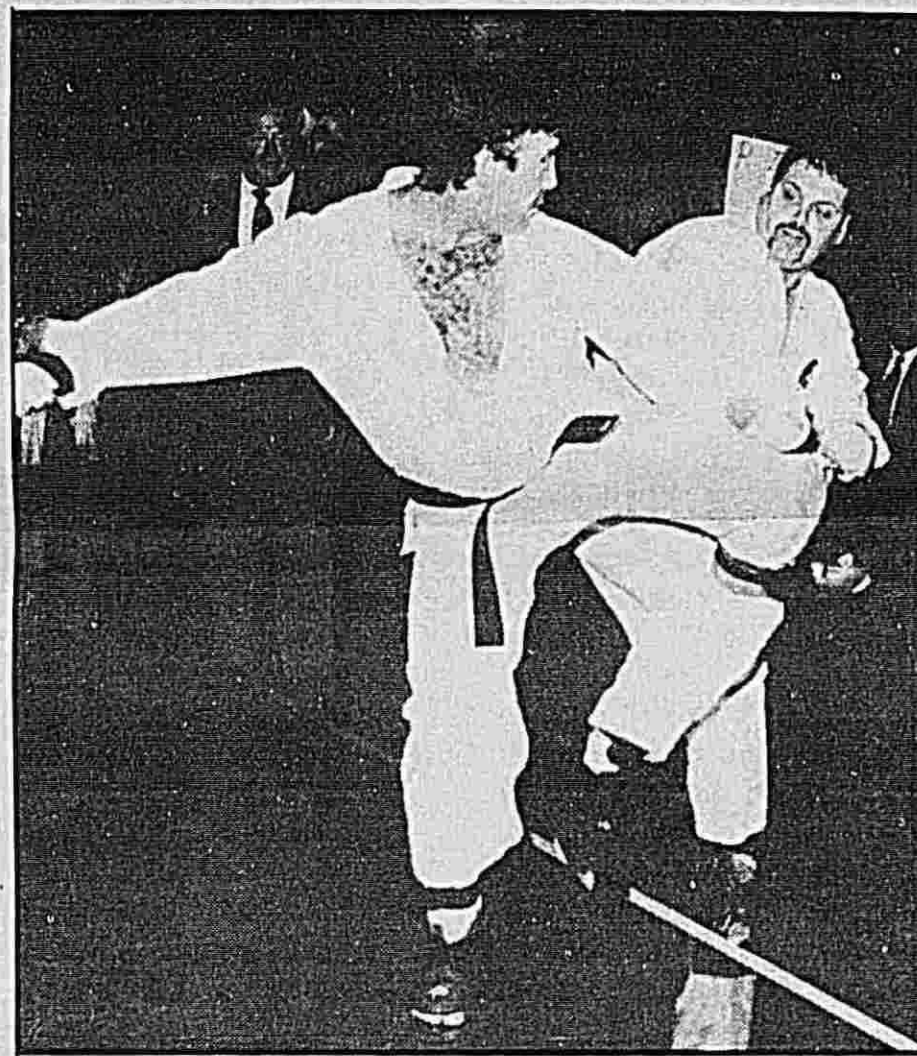

Since 1985, USA-Karate has been accredited through the national governing body for karate under the Olympic program.

Simply put, "We carry the flag," Townsley said.

- Kenny Schlobohm, 12, Round Lake Beach, purple belt;
- Becky Bush, 13, Libertyville, purple belt;
- Travis Bestwick, 12, Beach Park, purple belt;
- Tim Bush, 12, Libertyville, purple belt;
- Jimmy Chagdes, 10, Mundelein, purple belt;
- Nick Brakocevic, 18, Round Lake, honorary black belt;
- Steve Bush, 15, Libertyville, green belt;
- Mary Ann Boullion, 16, Green Oaks, green belt.

"We have a very strong group in this area," Townsley said. "There are probably more people in karate in Chicago than there is in Japan. With the advent of children becoming involved, there's been a growth of interest in karate."

For that reason, Townsley was also forced to find a new location for his training facility. The studio use to be located in Libertyville, but moved to a bigger location in Mundelein near Route 60 and Butterfield Road.

"We tripled our size," Townsley said. "Where we were, there was just no way to grow. We have triple the space now."

After competing against the best karate competitors in Europe, Townsley said he hopes to take Team USA to the World Championships which are planned for Okinawa, Japan, in 1997.

He is also working to get karate accepted as an Olympic sport. So far, the 1996 Olympics in Atlanta, Ga., are out of the question, but he thinks the 2000 Olympics are a distinct possibility.

"What is driving me up the wall is that ballroom dancing is now accepted in the Olympics," Townsley said. "Maybe by the year 2000 we'll be in."

Despite popular belief that karate originated in China or Japan, Townsley said karate actually began in ancient Greece. Alexander the Great trained his armies in the hand-to-hand combat. Alexander is believed to have introduced karate to the Far East after he captured India in 322 B.C.

Although various forms of karate or kung fu were popular in China, the Japanese did not begin using karate until the early 1900s.

"My view is that it came from Greece anyway," said Townsley, which is why he is looking forward to the competition in Greece this month. "I've always been interested in Greece. For me, this is a dream come true."

Before embarking for Greece, USA-Karate will be hosting a spaghetti dinner to benefit Team USA. The dinner is planned for Oct. 14 from 4 to 8 p.m. at Calvary Baptist Church in Mundelein. Tickets at the door are $6 for adults and $4 for children over 12. For more information, call 785-8270.

Falcons outlast Vikings in key Midwest loop clash

The Lake County Vikings and Chicago Falcons entertained a semi-pro football crowd with 74 minutes and 30 seconds of some of the more evenly matched battles of the Midwest Football League season.

The old cliché, "you hate to see someone lose this game" applies, especially since the home town Lake County Vikings fell 14-8 in overtime.

A 26-yard TD scamper by Kent Terrell with :30 left in overtime kept the Falcons unbeaten at 9-0 while the Vikings slipped to 7-2. Both teams told each other afterwards they look forward to a possible Midwest Football League playoff game.

"The defense played a great game tonight and made couple of big plays. But the offense did not really do the job today. We played good in spurts, but we did not do it when we needed to. They put a lot of pressure on our quarterback but we did not pick up their blitz," Vikings acting Coach Sam Toia said.

Toia was subbing for head coach Russ Kraly, who could not make the Saturday night clash due to business. Also missing, for less clear reasons, was starting QB Adam Tesch. Kraly is expected back for the regular-season finale Oct. 13 in Chicago against the Midway Jets.

Walter Tesch subbed for his younger brother at QB.

The Falcons scored first, on an interception return for a touchdown early in the second quarter.

Dave Appleby set up the Vikings score when he wrestled the ball away from a Falcons runner and returned it 52 yards. Reggie Lawrence scored from 15 yards out for an 8-6 deficit. When Walter Tesch plunged in for the two-point conversion, the Round Lake High crowd, encouraged by the Round Lake Spartan youth football cheerleaders, had something to cheer about.

Lake County secondary standout Corey Turner gained another interception early in the fourth. But it was five plays and out by the offense.

A fumble recovery gave Lake County another chance at its 37, but the result was the same.

The defense made another stand in the remaining 19 minutes, as RL High grad Bob Akers swept up a Falcons fumble deep in Lake County's end. But the offense once again sputtered.

There were three possession changes in overtime before a fumble recovery led to the game-ending TD.

"You can't blame the offense or the defense today - they just outplayed us," Toia said.

CHS to refocus on playoffs in final two league tests

With a chance at an East Suburban Catholic Conference title fading, getting into the playoffs will be the main goal of Carmel High's football team the last two weeks.

St. Viator (3-2 ESCC, 4-3) visits Carmel at 8 p.m. Oct. 13 needing a win to stay alive for the playoffs while Carmel comes in at 5-2 following a 14-6 loss at Joliet Catholic.

"Viator will come in ready to roll. They have a couple of good running backs. Defensively, they have eight or nine guys on the line," Carmel Coach Mike Fitzgibbons said.

The Carmel mentor described the mood at practice Monday as upbeat despite being one-yard away from upending the ESCC powerhouse.

Carmel (3-2 ESCC) had just completed a 13-play, 80-yard march as Kevin Burris scored from 4 yards out.

Nick Yeager, who completed 9-of-20 passes against the vaunted Joliet Catholic defense, proved his weight on defense as he snared a fumble recovery at the Joliet 25.

"I thought we were going to go in and score. But we slipped on third down and on fourth down had a miscommunication," Fitzgibbons said.

Larry Whitgrove scored both Joliet touchdowns. One was on a 40-yard run, another on a 5-yard run set up by a 58-yard pass.

Defensively, linebackers Dan Potempa and Steve Golebiowski each were leaders along with Aaron Willett.

"He is aggressive, has nice size and threw the timing off of their center all night," Fitzgibbons said.

CLC spikers hope tourney gives chance to regroup

A strong finish in one match carried over into winning the first game in another but not enough for victories.

College of Lake County's women's volleyball team found Skyway Conference challenge a tough going in losses to McHenry and Elgin last week. The Lancers hope to regroup at the College of DuPage tourney Oct. 13-14.

"This is a great group and we are practicing well and working hard, and sooner or later the rolls and breaks will go our way," CLC Coach Sue Garcia said.

CLC (8-21 overall) fell to Elgin in three games 15-3, 15-5, 15-12. The Lancers won the opener against McHenry 15-6 but lost 15-6, 15-2, 15-8 for a 3-2 Skyway Conference record.

"We were making some smart plays and shots and were mentally in it," Garcia said of the first game against McHenry.

Shannon Davis had 10 points on 15-of-18 serving. Carrie Curtis had 10 kills to lead the attack. Stacey Harrison had 12 assists.

Jodi Botsford and Curtis led the defense with 12 digs each against McHenry.

CLC lost setter Harrison for a time due to an ankle injury but remained intense in the 5-1 setup, the coach said.

Eiden leads CLC runners to title

College of Lake County's women's cross country team showed what could have been as the Lancers won their own invite Saturday.

Competing for the first time as a full team, CLC won the three-team competition with 14 points. Oakton was next with 25 and South Suburban had 90.

"I think we have the talent. This was the first time all the girls were there and two of them were sick," CLC Coach Karen Graham said.

Becky Eiden won the race in 22 minutes, 15 seconds, beating her closest rival by almost 30 seconds.

"Eiden has been a leader for us all year. She relaxed and enjoyed herself," Graham said.

Her former teammate, Renee Tessman, was another CLC finisher, in 25:15.

In between were Toni Welzen of CLC in 23:25 and Nicholasa Marquez of CLC in 23:39. The two were sixth and seventh.

CLC is at the University of Wisconsin-Parkside meet Oct. 13 then at the Skyway Conference meet Oct. 27. Graham believes the Lancers have a good shot at qualifying for national meet in New York.

The men's team was not as fortunate as they finished fourth of four teams at their home course in Grayslake.

George Angelopolus, a tennis player at CLC, was the top CLC finisher in 16th place in 33:15. He was a member of the 1993 men's cross country Skyway Conference title team.

Russ O'Kane was second finisher for the Lancers in 33:15; Rob Rung, a Warren High graduate, was 21st in 35 minutes and Justin Zdeb, a Round Lake High grad, finished in 35:40.

CLC had 101 points in the meet won by South Suburban's 22 score.

CLC kickers gain wins

College of Lake County's soccer teams won in non-conference and Skyway Conference matches.

The Lancers men's team improved to 8-3-2 overall, 6-1 Skyway with a 3-0-1 win over Waubesa.

In a 4-1 win over Harper, Joe Earl had a goal; Andy Kennett had a goal and an assist; Kafi Lartey had one goal as did Shane Krupinski. Chris Swanson and Chris Wallin each had assists.

CLC earned a 3-1 win over Skyway foe Waubesa.

Lartey, a Warren High grad, had a goal as did Jeff Hauig and Ismael Rosa. Joe Earl had an assist.

Shean Hawkins was in goal.

The women's team earned a 9-0 shutout of Lincoln College.
